BRITAIN BLASTED, PLANS NEW DEFI

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 22—Bomb-and-run German raiders kept up harassment of the British Isles today while Britons anticipated an emphatic "no compromise" reply from their government tonight to Adolf Hitler's "last chance" peace overture.

HULL ARRIVES—In Havana to attend the Pan-American conference, Secretary of State Cordell Hull is pictured with Mrs. Hull on arrival. Interviewedby reporters, Hull told them he had no doubt the meeting would produce a demonstration of the "vigor and vitality of the American republics working in their common interest."

With Nazi bombs exploding in widely scattered areas, Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax arranged a speech expected to reiterate what Prime Minister Churchill has said repeatedly—that Britain is in for a fight to a finish.

The Halifax broadcast to the empire and the United States was scheduled for later today. Churchill may follow it up with a speech of his own on the same subject when he goes before the House of Commons tomorrow.

The Germans directed their attacks today at the midlands, industrial heart of Britain, and at northeast and southeast Scotland.

30TH PLANE SHOT DOWN

One Dornier 17 was shot down in flames, bringing to 30 the bag of raiding craft believed downed since Saturday.

The ministry of home security said some casualties were inflicted during incendiary bomb attacks on three towns in Scotland, but property damage was slight.

The admiralty announced the loss of the 1360-ton destroyer Brazen, sunk while being towed to port after being damaged in an air attack.

Even as she lay foundering, the Brazen got in some blows of her own. The admiralty announced her blazing pom-poms blasted three of her attackers in the skies.

"It is now known that H.M.S Brazen, whose loss was announced this morning, shot down three German aircraft during the engagement," an admiralty communique said.

FLAMING PLANE IN SEA

"One crashed alongside, the second received a direct hit in the nose with a three-inch shell, while the third received a direct hit abaft the port engine.

"In another engagement H.M.S. Beagle (sister ship of the Brazen) destroyed a Junkers 87 by Pom Pom fire."

Swift British fighters climbed from an altitude of 2000 feet to 18,000 feet to tackle the high-flying Dornier off the southeast coast.

The big bomber quickly shot into a three and one-half-mile dive to

Hitler Gives Britain Till After Tuesday

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 22—Nazi Germany today virtually abandoned hope that Great Britain will sue for peace "to avoid destruction" but gave England another 24 hours or more before launching the attack for which all preparations have been completed.

Expressions of opinion in England over the week-end apparently convinced the German government that Hitler's "last offer" will go unheeded.

The Reich will wait, however, until after Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax has delivered his broadcast tonight and Prime Minister Churchill has made his expected address to the House of Commons tomorrow.

BRITISH ZERO HOUR NEAR

If both slam the door, it was said, the die will be cast.

Early hopes that a storm of public British opposition to continuation of the war might sweep Churchill aside and permit a peaceful end to the conflict were dispated. In this connection, reports that former Premier David Lloyd George had asked a secret session of Parliament to consider Hitler's peace appeal attracted scant attention.

"We do not formulate or base our policy on the activity of anonymous political groups in England or of quarters which oppose the Churchill regime," a Wilhelmstrasse spokesman said. "Our decisions are based upon the pronouncements that official and semi-official England make to the world.

"If Halifax and Churchill spurn Hitler's hand, there will no longer

Latin Nations Wait U. S. Defense Policy

HAVANA, July 22 (AP)-An emergency meeting of representatives of the 21 American republics looked today to the United States to point the way for concrete measures to bolster Western Hemisphere economy and defense against any totalitarian thrusts.

As the business of formally organizing the conference began, delegates of the Latin-American countries, whose economies already have been disturbed by the loss of European markets, anxiously waited for Secretary of State Cordell Hull to indicate how far the United States is ready to go in helping to solve their problems.

Hull planned to address the conference at 4 p. m. (E. S. T.) after the first private plenary session

HITLER NOT BLUFFING, AIR FURY READY, SAYS WRITER

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Chief Foreign Correspondent of the Hearst Newspapers

BERLIN, July 22—"If England wishes it, desires it, insists upon it—so be it—but yet I will wait and give time for reason to manifest itself if a spark of reason remains in the rulers of England."

This is said to be the remark of Chancellor Adolf Hitler in his last conference with his new marshals when newspaper excerpts of reaction in England to his speech and "last appeal to reason" were laid before him.

The field marshals—12 in number—went today to their assigned posts.

Not yet will the "trumpets of Jericho"—as the weird nerve-rending banshee howling sirens of German Stuka hell-diving bombers are called—scream in mass formations over England in a general air assault with 550, 1100 and 2200-pound bombs and others of a type not yet known.

The "trumpets of Jericho" are set in vibratory notes like the war whoops of the Red Indian a thousand times amplified in dives of peculiar intensity, terrific to the nerves and sometimes dazing to the brain.

Hitler is still holding off. How long, none but himself knows. It will depend largely on if and when a definite rejection is officially announced in London.

Even then it is conceivable he may decide first to give England two or three "real samples" of the terrific destructive air power which he claims he can unleash, before ordering the general attack.

"Let them say I'm bluffing, let them think I made my appeal to reason out of weakness and fear. If they are so blind as the newspaper excerpts indicate, all the greater will be the shock. If it must come, it must."

That is the statement which Hitler is credited as having made at that conference.

I don't know much about the gigantic German preparations for the general assault on England or the minutely worked-out details, and I cannot tell even that little.

But what I know is enough to indicate that Hitler is not bluffing, nor is he influenced by doubts of success.

His reluctance grows out of other motives.

Son Gets Blessing To Wed Chinese Girl

Overcoming parental objections, the brilliant son of a Harvard alumnus and an attractive Chinese girl protege of Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek are preparing to wed this fall, it was learned today.

Principals of the East-West romance are Josiah W. Bennett, 24, son of J. Clark Bennett, of Avon at., Cambridge ice company executive, and Miss Yen Chein Tzu, 25, Wellesley alumna and daughter of a Chinese professor.

Having already filed marriage intentions, the son and his Chinese bride-to-be visited the summer home of his parents at Hampton, N. H., over the week-end and returned to Cambridge with parental blessings.

BLESSING GIVEN

The elder Bennett, Harvard '15, was reluctant to discuss details of the romance, or wedding plans of the couple.

The wedding, he said, would be held in Cambridge, and would be quietly performed.

"My son is over 21," he observed, adding: "Yes, they have my good wishes and blessing."

Young Bennett, who is taking a Ph. D. course at the University of Chicago, will return to that school in September after his marriage.

The bride-to-be is a student of English in a graduate course at Wellesley. She attained a bachelor of arts degree at Yen Ching University in China.

His degree once obtained, Bennett and his bride will go to her native land where he will realize his ambition to teach in China, according to the elder Bennett.

Young Bennett himself can speak the language. He began the study of it years ago.

FILED AT CAMBRIDGE

The romantic couple filed their marriage intentions at Cambridge Friday before they left to visit his parents at Hampton.

Friends of the bride-to-be describe her as a girl of charm and culture. She spent much of her early years in Canada, which background coupled with her Wellesley training had left her thoroughly Americanized.

Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, who as wife of the Chinese generalissimo is China's First Lady, is one of Wellesley's most famous graduates.

Unostentatiously, Mme. Chiang has encouraged the American education of outstanding Chinese students, and Miss Chan was one of those honored.

The prospective bridegroom is a former member of the class of '38 at Harvard.

In 1934, young Bennett was recipient of one of 12 Harvard prize scholarships, awarded to entering freshmen from leading American preparatory schools. After leaving Harvard in 1938, Bennett went to the University of Chicago.

GLAMOUR GIRL IS MOTHER

MRS. HAL KEMP, wife of the orchestra leader, today was the mother of a seven-pound daughter, born to her last night at the LeRoy Sanitarium, New York. Mrs. Kemp, the former Martha Stephenson, Gotham socialite-glamour girl, and the bandman, were married in Pittsburgh in January, 1939.

GIRL SEEKS FIANCE MISSING AT ALTAR

Her dream castles shattered by the failure of her fiance to appear at her wedding, a pretty South End girl, distraught and helpless, today renewed her appeal for police help in her search for the missing bridegroom.

Milk st. police identified the bride-to-have-been as Miss Edith Rollins, 26, who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Deane C. Lawson of East Canton st., South End, since coming to Boston, from Lowell.

Teletype descriptions were sent throughout New England, New York and Pennsylvania of the fiance, John Frank McGuiness, 30, of West Newton st., South End.

Missing with McGuiness, according to the girl, was $130 which Miss Rollins told police she had entrusted to him for the purchase of a honeymoon car. On Friday night, she was quoted as saying, he told her he had the machine ready and wanted her to take care of all the wedding preparations.

On the appointed hour, 7 p. m. Saturday, the girl, in a new, flowered wedding dress, carrying a bouquet of gardenias, arrived at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon st., Back Bay, with her attendants.

With the pastor, Dr. Herbert S. Johnson, the wedding group waited until after 9 o'clock for McGuiness. Then, when the fiance had failed to appear two hours after the time for the marriage, Dr. Johnson advised the heart-broken girl to inform the police of her plight.

It was first feared McGuiness had been a victim of foul play. A check at his rooming house, officers learned he had given up his quarters.

8 Flee Flames In Roxbury Home

Fireman Edward Cullinane of Rescue Co. 2, Roxbury, answered an alarm for a $1500 blaze in his own home in Ellis st., Roxbury, today. Members of his family were absent on vacation.

Eight persons fled, including 86-year-old Mrs. Theresa Kamp; her son, Alphonse "Ike" Kamp, former Boston Braves pitcher, and his wife and three children.

From the first-floor apartment were driven Mrs. Annie McNamara, 65, and her son, Joseph, 40.

Members of the Kamp and McNamara families were roused by Mrs. Margaret Sprague, a next-door neighbor, who pounded on their doors.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Katherine Flynn of nearby Thornton st.

TIMILTY DENIES LAUNDRY CHARGE

Vigorously denying ever having talked with any officer regarding solicitation of business for his brother's laundry concern, Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty took the stand in Suffolk Superior Court today as his attorney hinted that he may request Governor Saltonstall as a witness.

In a hearing before Judge Allan G. Buttrick, which was frequently marked by stormy outbursts between opposing attorneys, Timilty told of being questioned by the Governor and of a subsequent searching investigation which he ordered conducted by Superintendent Fallon.

Timilty also testified that Governor Saltonstall told him he was going to have the State Police investigate charges police officers were soliciting business for the Elk Laundry operated by his brother Walter.

CLIPPINGS REJECTED

When an attempt was made to introduce newspaper clippings quoting Gov. Saltonstall as saying he was satisfied with the results of the State Police investigation, Atty. George R. Farnum entered an objection.

At this point, Frank T. Leahy, counsel for Timilty, asked the court whether or not it would be necessary for him to summons the Governor since the newspaper clipping had been rejected as avidence.

No action was taken on his request.

The commissioner said that until April, 1939, when he was summoned to appear before Gov. Saltonstall, he had never received any complaint that Walter was utilizing the police department in soliciting business.

After the matter had been brought to his attention, Timilty said, he called in Supt. Fallon and told him to make a thorough investigation, admonishing him that if it did exist he wouldn't stand for it and wanted any police involved brought up on charges.

Andrew J. Gorey, secretary to Timilty, took the stand and through an agreement between opposing counsel testified that the police department made 12 complaints against Elk Laundry customers to the Boston Licensing Board.

CROSS EXAMINED

Under cross-examination by Atty. Farnum, Timilty said he had never instructed anyone to contact laundry firms to find out what information they have had on the matter of police solicitation for Walter Timilty's firm.

When asked why he had not done so Timilty replied:

"Because I believed that if they had any information they would come in and give it to me."

Boston Drops 11,668 In Census Figures

A decrease of 11,688 in the population of the city of Boston since 1930 was shown today by a preliminary announcement of results of the 1940 census.

Patrick J. Murray, area manager for the Boston district census bureau, quoted the following figures, subject to future correction and modification.

Population of Boston proper, 1940, 769,520; population in 1930, 781,183; decrease in the 10-year period, 11,663.

Murray said the 1940 figures could not be broken down, at this time, to show what areas suffered greatest or least losses.

U. S. Sailors, Jap Police Clash

SHANGHAI, July 22 (AP) — A clash between United States sailors and Japanese policemen at Tsingtao was reported today by Domei, Japanese official news agency, with the assertion that Japanese authorities took a serious view of the incident. Several of the policemen were injured.

Domei said the trouble started when two sailors left a cafe without paying their bill, then became involved in a fist fight with the owner and Chinese bystanders.

Four Japanese policemen who attempted to arrest the sailors were attacked by a United States patrol, the news agency said.

An Empress Feasts On U. S. Ice Cream

ROYALSTON, July 22—This is a story of The Empress and The Waitress.

It is a story of Empress Zita of Austria and Hungary, who is visiting here, and of a girl who served her ice cream for the first time.

And it is a story of a tall slender woman in black, of noble mien, who once had everything, but who after years of exile and hardships does not desire the luxurious pomp which came from the taxes of peasants.

LIKES U. S. CUSTOMS

The Empress talked about herself modestly in between delightful discoveries of old American customs and habits. There was a parking tag her chaeuffeur nearly received from Athol Traffic Officer Pio L. Maroni for double parking.

And there was the roadside restaurant where she paused to sample American icecream—and to like it.

With a smile that may have won her undying fealty from one of her subjects in bygone years, she thanked the waitress who served her.

Then she watched with naive interest while her son, Archduke Felix, wrote his autograph on the pay check for the waitress.

Empress Zita and her youngest daughter, Archduchess Elizabeth, arrived here Saturday and are staying in a two-story Colonial home ordinarily occupied by Hugh Bullock, son of Calvin Bullock, New York broker.

BROKER'S GUESTS

The New York broker and Felix met last year and a deep friendship developed. As a result, he extended an invitation to the royal exiles to come to America as his guests.

For the last 25 years, the heroic Empress Zita has been fleeing wars and revolutions from one end of Europe to another. But through it all she has retained faith, she said.

"I must have faith that my children and I will return to our home in Vienna," she said. "I must."

She spoke in perfect English as she related the beauties of the New England countryside which she had seen on her motor trip from New York where she and her daughter had arrived on the Clipper.

Nothing would give her greater happiness, she said, than to have a house for herself and children in Massachusetts.

"But democracy and religion must return to Europe. People again will be free to choose their rulers, and when Austrians and Hungarians are again free, they will call Otto home," she said.

IN CONSTANT FLIGHT

Since the Germans invaded Belgium, his mother and his sisters and brothers have been in constant flight, Archduke Felix explained.

Her children will join her, perhaps here, as soon as they can obtain transportation on the clipper, she said.

Zita is the widow of Emperor Charles Francis Ferdinand, who died in exile 20 years ago on the Island of Madeira from typhoid fever and pneumonia. Her husband was the nephew of Archduke Ferdinand, whose assassination at Sarajevo in 1914 served as the spark that touched off the World War.

AMONG the several titled war refugees who arrived in Boston aboard the Norwegian motorship Mosdale from Liverpool was Viscountess Joan Moore of London, accompanied by her son, Derry, 3.

SAFE—Her son with her, Lady Patricia Latham of London was among the passengers arriving here aboard the Mosdale. Her husband is serving with the British anti-aircraft forces.

EVA SMALL DAUGHTER ESCAPES SHERBORN

One more weird chapter in the tangled family affairs of seven-times-wed Mrs. Eva Marian Small, of Newton, seemed in process of being written today as Sherborn Reformatory officials revealed the escape of red-haired, 20-year-old Frances E. Tennihan, serving an indefinite sentence as a stubborn child.

Miss Tennihan is the daughter of Mrs. Small and one of her ex-husbands, William F. Tennihan, formerly of Newton Upper Falls.

Arrest of the girl in March on the father's complaint led to police charges against Tennihan and Mrs. Small, in their turn.

CASE LATER FILED

Alleged to be living together, though divorced, they were found guilty on a morals complaint in lower court. On their appeal, they were permitted to plead nolo in Superior Court, and the case was placed in file.

Young and pretty Frances Tennihan, meantime, was still confined at Sherborn. Her father claimed she admitted having carried on a clandestine love affair.

Escape of the girl was on July 3, but reformatory officials suppressed news of it even from police.

Today, however, the story came out with publication of circulars asking police of the nation to seek the fugitive red-head.

BELIEVED IN TEXAS

Indicating that reformatory authorities had attempted to trace the girl while keeping her escape secret was a statement on the circular that she was believed to have gone first to Washington, D. C., then headed for Texas.

She is described as five feet, six and a half inches tall, weighing 113 pounds, with blue eyes, fair complexion and light red hair.

Posses in Hunt For Revere Man

Volunteer posses of Revere and South End residents were formed today to search North Sudbury woods for 71-year-old Peter Screnci of Temple st., Revere, father of a Boston priest, who was lost during an Italian outing.

The excitement caused by the aged man's disappearance was heightened when two large passenger buses, one containing 10 persons, burst into flames.

Crash Wrecks Fire Hydrants

Joyriders smashed two fire-hydrants while driving a car taken in front of a Main st. residence in Winthrop today and escaped before police could reach the scene.

Prompt action by the police and water departments averted a flood as the hydrants near Shirley and Cross streets spouted 15 to 20-feet geysers.

Police later found the car abandoned in the rear of the town shed in Revere st.

Paul Dinkle, owner of the car, told police that he left it parked in front of his home.

Heavy Fog Ties Up Many Ships

Fog blanketed Massachusetts Bay today tieing up shipping and delaying scheduled arrivals in Boston from two to nearly five hours.

Traffic through the Cape Cod canal was at a virtual standstill with an undetermined number of small and medium-sized craft anchored off both approaches.

The S. S. New York of the Eastern Steamship Lines docked two and a half hours late from New York, while the Belgian freighter S. S. Ville de Gand, from Liverpool and Glasgow, anchored off Boston Light until conditions improved.

When weather reports indicated the fog would lift during the day, excursion line officials announced regular sailings would be made on the Provincetown runs.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS INJURIES

Injuries which he received in an auto accident were blamed today by police for the three suicide attempts of Robert Douglas Johnston, 30, of Atherton st., Somerville, the third of which succeeded—in his girl friend's apartment.

The girl was identified by police as Miss Edith Newton, 28, of Columbus ave., Somerville, who was vacationing in New Hampshire when the tragedy occurred.

Missing from his home since last Friday, Johnston was found lifeless on a couch in the kitchen by members of the girl's family, with whom he had been friendly, upon their return home after an evening out.

Four jets on the gas range had been turned on full, police reported.

Only recently released from a hospital after suffering severe injuries in an automobile accident, Johnston was pronounced a "suicide while temporarily deranged" by Medical Examiner Dr. G. Stanley Miles of Somerville.

According to police Johnston, ill and despondent, had twice before attempted to take his life.

Johnston, police said, had obtained a key to the second-floor apartment where he sought death and went there Saturday during the absence of the family.

Italian Restaurant Closes at World's Fair

Fixtures valued at $340,000 will be shipped back to Italy, Tosi said, as well as a copper dance floor which presumably will go into armaments.

Hub Throngs Cheer Middies on Parade

Under lowering skies, 1200 blue-clad midshipmen from three U. S. dreadnaughts marched through Boston streets today before thousands of spectators.

With the middies were 36 cadets from the coast guard cutters Argo and Icarus and the training yacht Curlew.

It was Boston's last chance o see the middies, for tomorrow they sail for Cuba on a continuance of their trip, the usual summer training cruise, and Boston citizens turned out in full force to welcome them.

The parade started in Dewey sq. at noon, and lunch time crowds filled the sidewalks and office employes hung from windows to cheer.

From Dewey sq. the parade went up Federal st., up Milk and Washington sts., past the City Hall, where the midshipmen were reviewed by Mayor Tobin, by the State House, down Beacon st. to Charles, and to Boston Common.

Every foot of the way men and women cheered the perspiring future naval and coast guard officers.

Mayor Tobin was host to the paraders at a box lunch on the Common, and Sen. David I. Walsh, chairman of the naval affairs committee, was host to the naval officers at the Algonquin Club.

Three battleships of the Navy, the Arkansas, Texas and New York, brought the middies to Boston.

CHIEF HOSTESS—Attractive Miss Jacqueline "Jackie" Dion, attired in fetching beach costume, (above) will be chief hostess at bathing beauty contest, a highlight of the State Legion Convention to be held at Salisbury Beach, Aug. 22 to 24. Instead of famed Legion cry of "Where's Elmer?" now it will be . . . "Where's Jackie?"

So He Failed To Show Up

Herbert W. Davis of Elm st., Pittsfield, is going to have a chance to discover whether American courts are like Hitler's whether he wants to or not.

Divas, 33, was due in Newton court today to answer a charge of speeding brought by Motor Vehicle Inspector Alfred W. Hammell, but he didn't appear.

"When I stopped him, your honor, he told me, during the course of a long argument, that American courts were like Hitler's" Hammell told Judge John Delay.

Judge Delay issued a warrant ordering Hammell brought into court.

London Sketch Says Hitler Paid Heed to Hearst Article

Special cable to Boston Evening American

LONDON, July 22—In an editorial the London Daily Sketch today refers to a recent article by William Randolph Hearst in his "In the News" column, citing to Hitler the lesson of the little lemmings which always perished when they tried to cross the sea.

Mr. Hearst's article, which appeared in the Boston Daily Record, warned Hitler not to try to invade England, and was cabled in full to London. It was widely published and commented on editorially in leading newspapers throughout the British empire.

The Daily Sketch sees in Hitler's latest "peace plea" a disposition to heed Mr. Hearst's advice.

In today's editorial the Daily Sketch says:

"Some time ago Mr. William Randolph Hearst offered some advice to Hitler. Mr. Hearst told the Fuehrer that he had not command of the sea, that he was not likely to get it, and that, therefore, now was the time for Hitler to offer peace.

"The Fuehrer seems to a certain extent to have taken that advice to heart. . . .

"Mr. Hearst has taken away a good deal of the effect of Hitler's speech by suggesting in advance the reason why it should be made.

"Hitler hasn't command of the sea."

Felled by Film Fumes, 19 Firemen Improve

Marked improvement was noticed today in the conditions of 19 Quincy firemen who were affected by deadly poisonous fumes from nitro-cellulose films during a blaze at the President Press in Bigelow st., Quincy.

All but one of the group were ordered to rest on cots at the various stations, where their brother firemen served as nurses.

Among those stricken by the fumes, which Dr. George M. Sheahan, city physician, said might prove fatal, were William Carroll, of Engine 3, who was taken to Quincy City Hospital, and Deputy Chief John O'Neil, Capt. Robert Senby, Capt. William Wholey and Lt. George Dorlay.

SORE THROATS

Other firemen who were treated were William Tobin, Matthew E. Burns, John S. Rizzi, John F. Dorlay, Robert A. Mullaney, Edward O'Connell, D. Walters, E. Donovan, Robert P. Pangraze, Francis R. Frazier, Ambrose Daley, Waldo E. Lagerquists, R. Faulkner and Edward Dwyer.

The blaze, which started from an undetermined source and caused damage estimated at $2000, drove to the street Mr. and Mrs. Edward M Skinner, who occupied an apartment over the printing establishment.

After the blaze had been extinguished, firemen began complaining about sore throats and, after they had returned to their station houses, Dr. Sheahan was called. He immediately ordered to bed five men of Engine 3, at Quincy Point, and 14 at fire headquarters, attached to Engine 1, Hose 1 and th special service squad.

FILMS FOUND

An investigation at the scene of the fire then revealed the box of films, fumes from which caused many deaths in a Cleveland, O., hospital fire some years ago. It was believed the films were used in connection with his business by the proprietor of the printing establishment, Bertram Eckblom of Bedford st., Quincy, who could not be reached.

Fireman Carroll was sent to the hospital after blotches appeared on his face, but his condition was not believed to be serious.

Fair Cycle Riders Injured in Crash

NEW YORK, July 22 (INS)—Two motorcycle stunt drivers—David Herst, 25, and John Luck, 40—today lay seriously injured after colliding in a World's Fair exhibition.

The pair, performing in an attraction known as the "Wall of Death," were speeding at 50 miles per hour around a cupped arena 40 feet in diameter when the collision occurred.

Bomb Search Fails At Packard Plant

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Squads of police searched the Packard Motor Co. building near the Hudson river for four hours without results after numerous telephone and mail bomb warnings received in the wake of a report that the company had been offered an airplane engine manufacturing contract.

RADIO LINKS HUB TO BOSTON, ENG.

A broadcast from Boston, Mass., to Boston, Lincolnshire, England, featured the 10th annual celebration of Two Bostons' Day at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul here.

While Nazis bombed England, residents in the little city of Boston, Lincolnshire, heard a mixed chorus of 40 voices as well as a message from Gov. Saltonstall and from Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, summer dean of the Cathedral.

The chief executive's message, read by Rev. Sullivan, said:

"Against the background of the latest terrifying circumstances by which Old Boston is threatened, we are warned to cultivate more strongly than ever before the deepest emotion of all-spiritual faith: faith based upon the worship of God.

"We need more faith in the world today. We must not lose hope."

The observance was started by the great service in which the Archbishop of Canterbury stood on the altar in St. Botolph's Church in Old Boston, and received a gift of $56,000 sent by residents here to restore the tower of St. Botolph's Church.

THEY'VE GOT THOSE EXTRAS THAT WIN BALL GAMES

Yes, it's the extras that carried Joe DiMaggio, "Bucky" Walters, and George Case to the top. The extras of slower burning won them to Camel cigarettes

HE STEPS UP to the plate, and he looks like most any other ball player. But when that bat of his comes crashing through—man, look out! It may be the ball game. Experts call him one of the greatest natural hitters in the game. Where... how he gets all that extra power into his bat, even Joe DiMaggio himself can't say. But you can easily see below how he gets the extras in his cigarette. "I smoke Camels for extra mildness and extra flavor," says Joe.

JOE DIMAGGIO—He topped both major leagues in batting last season

NO, "Bucky" Walters has no magic pitch. The magic's in his extra pitching sense—the extra degree of control. It shows in a change of pace that shackles the mightiest of bats. Those are the extras in his pitching. In his cigarette, "Bucky" will tell you: "Extra mildness and extra coolness win with me. So I smoke slower-burning Camels." Yes, Camel's costlier tobaccos and slower way of burning mean extra pleasure—and extra smoking (see below, left).

"BUCKY" WALTERS—He won more games in 1939 than any other pitcher in the majors

EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR

● In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

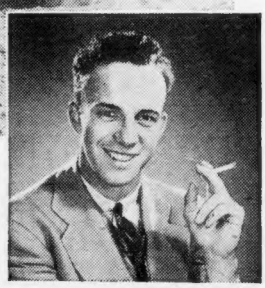
Copyright, 1940, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.



GEORGE CASE—He stole more bases last year than any other man in the majors

YES, it's the Case of the stolen base—George Case. Extra smartness in getting the jump on the pitcher... extra speed in getting there ahead of the ball—those two big extras have won George Case acclaim as the "fastest base-runner in the game today." Extras do make a difference—even in cigarettes.

With George Case—with millions of others—the extras of costlier tobaccos in slower-burning Camels are the difference between just smoking and smoking pleasure at its best. So turn to Camels. Enjoy mildness, coolness, and flavor—with an extra measure of each... and extra smoking per pack (see left).

Smokers: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel above.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

G-MEN PROBE SLAYING OF GIRL, 14, STUFED IN OIL DRUM

FT. SNELLING, Minn., July 22 (AP)—The brutal slaying of the 14-year-old daughter of a U. S. army sergeant whose body was found jack-knifed into an old oil drum Sunday set federal agents to work behind a veil of secrecy today in an effort to trace the killer.

The girl, Mary Jane Massey, disappeared a week ago last Saturday. Her body was found crammed into the oil drum in a brush and weed covered ravine a few blocks from her home.

Autopsy surgeons said the blonde girl had been strangled with her own underwear, but because of the decomposed condition of the body they were unable to determine whether she had been criminally assaulted.

No announcement was made as to whether a murder weapon was found.

Federal Bureau of Investigation officers took charge of the investigation because the crime occurred on a military reservation. They promptly declined to divulge any information and refused to confirm a report that two men had been arrested.

Sergeant Massey and two St. Paul detectives, made the gruesome discovery about noon Sunday, less than a half hour after the three started out on the search which, until then, had been fruitless for a week, despite the efforts of several hundred soldiers at the fort.

Maj. Warren W. Christian, post adjutant, said the entire reservation had been gone over at least three times.

The St. Paul detectives, Boyd Carrier and Man Soderberg, entered the case after appeals of the girls parents with permission of Ft. Snelling authorities.

Military authities referred all inquiries about the case to the FBI. Lloyd E. Richmond, special agent in charge of the St. Paul office, declined to answer questions, saying the case "is still in the no comment stage."

Rally 'Round, Girls, Beauty Parade's On!

To the call of beauty, scores of girls throughout the state are responding by entering the contest for "Miss Massachusetts 1940"—a contest which may lead the winner to national championship and national fame.

For the winner of the state title will have the opportunity to compete at the Atlantic City Beauty Pageant for the national title of "Miss America 1940," and this title has invariably meant wealth and success and dreams come true.

Beauty is essential in this contest, but beyond beauty you must have talent and intelligence, sound health, poise and charm. Ability as a singer or dancer, musical or dramatic talent, will count more than physical perfection. You may be either amateur or professional, but in this contest past professional experience will not be considered.

GOOD CHARACTER

The contest for "Miss Massachusetts 1940" is open to any girl, a resident of this state, who is an American citizen between the ages of 18 and 28 and who has never been married. She must be of good character in her community.

The contest for "Miss Massachusetts 1940" is sponsored by the Boston Evening American, Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser. The newspapers will furnish free transportation to Atlantic City for the winner, and a complete wardrobe suitable for a week of gay festivities. Meals and accommodations at a first-class hotel will be furnished.

The wardrobe includes an alluring evening gown, a smart bathing suit and everything suitable for a thrilling vacation week at the famed seaside resort. And if "Miss Massachusetts 1940" is selected for the national title, there will be screen tests by noted talent scouts from Hollywood, some $2500 in contracts, and other golden opportunities for professional success.

The contest will be held during the week of Sept. 2 and elaborate plans are under way for the entertainment of the state winners. There will be beach parties and a yachting cruise, luncheons and dinners at smart cafes and hote's, a Mardi Gas and as a climax the great ball where "Miss America 1940" will be chosen and crowned.

ENTRIES COMING IN

Entries have already been received by the dozens from girls living in cities, towns and villages throughout the state. Some girl now obscure and unknown may find herself launched on the road to fame as a result of this contest. Other unknown girls, including Dorothy Lamour and Joan Crawford, found this way to their present eminence.

Now is the time to give your beauty the opportunity it deserves. Read the rules of this contest carefully. Then fill out and mail the accompanying entry blank. This may be your chance to fulfill your lifelong ambitions and prove your merit and talent.

Beauty Rules

Rules of "Miss Massachusetts" Contest:

1—This contest, under the auspices of the Boston Daily Record, Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser, is open to all single women (never having been married) who are residents of Massachusetts and citizens of the United States and who are between the age limit of 18 and 28 on Sept. 1, 1940.

2—Contestants must have poise, personality, intelligence, charm and beauty of face and figure, irrespective of height or weight.

3—Also, they must have good diction and must possess talent, such as singing, dancing or dramatic ability, or must be able to play a musical instrument.

4—Contestants must be of good character and standing in their community and must be in good health.

5—Contestants may be either amateur or professional. Past experience will have no bearing on the final selection

6—Each young woman desiring to enter the contest must fill out the entry blank which appears on this page and accompany it with a picture of herself, preferably in a bathing suit. As a precautionary measure each contestant should write her name and address on the reverse side of each photograph. These papers cannot assume responsibility for the return of photographs submitted by the contestants.

7—The finalist in the contest will be in a series of preliminary contests, the dates and places of which will be announced later. Winners of the preliminary contests will be judged in a Final Contest, date and place to be selected later. At this time one finalist and two alternates will be chosen.

8—Contestants will be required to appear for judging at the places and times specified by the manager of the contest.

9—The winner will receive free transportation to Atlantic City, N. J., and return, first class meals and accommodations at a leading Atlantic City hotel, and a wardrobe. Transportation and wardrobe will be supplied by the Daily Record, Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

10—If for any reason the winner is unable to go to Atlantic City the first of the two alternates will be chosen to take her place.

11—No employe or member of the family of the Committee or Committees of the Showmen's Variety Jubilee of Atlantic City or of the newspapers conducting the contest is eligible to enter the competition.

12—No girl who is or has been married, or whose marriage has been annulled will be eligible for entry in the competition.

13—Mail all communications to Miss Massachusetts Editor, Box 228, Boston, Mass.

SOUTHBRIDGE, July 22—Approximately 2500 persons attended the 55th annual novena in honor of St. Anne at St. Anne's Church in Fiskdale.

Woman's Mystery Injuries Probed

Mystified as to the cause of her injuries, Malden police prepared today to question Mrs. Annie Meredith, 55, of Vining st., Malden, who was found lying seriously injured in Salem st., near the Revere line.

The victim was in a semi-conscious condition and had suffered several head injuries. She was placed on the danger list at Maplewood Hospital.

Boy Friend Missing, Girl Dies in Plunge

NEW YORK, July 22 (INS)—Lillian Dyak, 19, of Willimantic, Ct., fell or jumped to her death from the 12th floor window of her hotel room, after spending the last 24 hours in an unsuccessful search for her boy friend.

She and Rose Simmons, 20, also of Willimantic, arrived in New York Saturday to locate the young man. They had intended returning home this afternoon. Miss Dyak's body was found in a courtyard when her companion returned from a walk.

War Orphans Look To U. S. for Safety

It is just a matter of a few days now. And then bombs will rain on England with all the fury the masters of total war can muster.

In the midst of the flaming death loosed from the skies will be the refugee children of Britain. Alone, afraid, they will stand defenseless, without home or parents to protect them in their flight.

Of all the spectacles the world has witnessed this will be the most awesome. It will truly be a slaughter of the innocents.

Something must be done about it. Something is being done. But it is far, far from enough.

The editor of the American has hundreds of letters from kind-hearted New Englanders offering to shelter the unfortunate war orphans. Each one pleading for a chance to serve in the name of humanity.

But there are many times hundreds of children to be removed from the midst of battle. Thousands on thousands totalling into the millions.

Some few fortunate ones have already reached these safe, friendly shores. Some few fortunate thousands have been provided for and will come when opportunity permits.

If you have not enlisted in this army of mercy do so today. Simply write a letter to the editor of the American stating the number of children you will care for and tell him whether you will adopt them or house them for the duration of the war.

Pattern your letter after those that follow which came in today's mail.

REFUGEES OF WAR
U. S. Homes for Them

WINCHESTER—"I have children of my own but there is a very welcome spot in my heart for two, little ones, French, English or Italian. I shall do everything for them their own parents would do. They could be brother and sister, sisters or brothers. I leave the choice to your judgment."

SOUTH BOSTON—"We are two girls who would like to take an orphan. Our mother and father are willing to adopt one and provide a home with good care and plenty of food and clothing. My sister and I would like a little Dutch baby between six months and five or six years old. If we can not have a Dutch girl we would be glad to adopt one from any Allied country."

BUZZARDS BAY—"Please put our name on your list of people who are anxious to take care of little children who have to leave their native countries while this terrible war is going on. While not wealthy, we are in moderate circumstances and could give some little child a good home where he or she could get an education."

SOMERVILLE — "We have four children of our own. All have grown up. The youngest is 11 years old. We would like to get a little French girl around two or three. We will keep her for the duration of the war."

NORTH CAMBRIDGE—"We have always wanted a baby girl and would like very much to have our name added to the list of families from Massachusetts. We would like a little girl from six months to four years old. But if we cannot have a girl that young we will take one a little older. We would like to adopt her for our own. But if that is not possible we will gladly take care of her for the duration of the war."

Britain Plans New 'No' to Hitler Bid

sea level, the attackers pouring bullets into its tail.

The flame-enveloped German ship splashed on the waters surface. One of the German crew escaped on a rubber boat and was rescued by a motor torpedo boat directed to the scene by a Hurricane fighter plane flying overhead. .. ...

NO PEACE TILL VICTORY

Authoritative sources said the foreign ministers probably would discuss the peace issues of the conflict, a reiteration of Britain's stand she is waging against Hitlerism and there can be no question of peace until British or Nazi arms and ideologs have won out.

The Halifax broadcast was planned before Hitler's Reichstag address last Friday. Therefore there was a possibility that Prime Minister Churchill who arrived to meet his cabinet today, might decide instead himself to declare anew the government's stand when he appears before the House of Commons tomorrow.

The Air Ministry announced today an enemy bomber was shot down by fighters of the RAF off the southeast coast early this morning.

German raiders soared over the southeast England coast again this afternoon.

NEW TARGET

The British press, which already has rejected the Nazi Fuehrer's ultimatum, found a new target today in German radio propaganda of the last few days advising Britain to get rid of Churchill and the "war mongers."

The London News Chronicle's Vernon Bartlett said:

"Either he (Propaganda Minister Goebbels) is very ignorant of the only grounds of criticism of the British government—namely, that the vast majority of Englishmen want more, and not less, drastic efforts to win the war—or he must go to unparalleled lengths to deceive his own people.

"It is incredible that such absurd lies should be told unless the internal situation in Germany and Italy were so that the people had to be misled at all costs."

The war of words was accompanied by fresh developments in the war at sea and in the air.

AIR BATTLES

Outstanding among the, as German planes renewed their blows at England this morning were:

1—An air battle over the English Channel yesterday afternoon in which six British Hurrican fighters outnumbered 13 to 1, succeeded in driving off 40 Dornier 17 bombers and 40 Messerschmitt fighters without loss to themselves or to convoyed merchant ships which were the Nazi raiders' objectives.

2—Destruction of 21 German raiders Saturday, three yesterday, and two and possibly three more this morning when they appeared near a town in southwest England.

3—Week-end Royal Air Force raids on the German naval base of Wilhelmshaven and on other targets in Hamburg, Bremen, the Ruhr district and Nazo-occupied Norway, Holland and Belgium, at a cost of 11 British planes.

4—Loss of the 367-ton minesweeping trawler Crestflower with two of her seamen. She was sunk by air attacks.

FUEHRER PRAISES WORKMEN—En route to Berlin where he received a welcome befitting a conqueror, Chancellor Hitler, returning from a two-months tour of the Lowlands and France, pauses to chat with German army workmen . . . and offers words of praise. Later, in address before the Reichstag, Der Fuehrer praised his army and officers. Here, the unknowns get the honors.

Latin Nations Depend on U. S.

devoted to designation of committees.

The Argentine delegates, Leopoldo and Luis Podesta Costa, finally put in their appearance today. They arrived from Santiago along with Pedro Manni Rios Uruguay's representative.

The concern over Argentina's attitude has been brought to the fore by declarations from Buenos Aires that she would refrain from any action which would jeopardize her pre war relations with European powers.

The problems to be discussed ranged over this field:

1—Examination of western hemisphere neutrality in the light of such unpredicted recent developments as the capitulation of Holland, Belgium and France to German armed forces.

2—The attitude of the Americas toward western hemisphere possesions of conquered European nations.

3—"Fifth Column" activities in the Americas—their extent and possible precautionary measures to be taken.

4—Re-settlement of refugees, prisoners and other victims of war.

5—Economic co-operation—or what possibilities exist for employing United States capital to mutual advantage in helping Latin American states from being drown into the barter system of totalitarian powers.

FRANCE CRUMBLED WITHIN LONG BEFORE NAZI INVASION

Kenneth Downs, chief of the International News Service bureau in Paris, today reveals what in his opinion actually ate away the heart of France. Not military dejection although there was some; not damna fifth columnists, although there were many. But something he thinks gnawed industriously, and successfully, at the once-strong structure of the French republic.

By KENNETH T. DOWNS

NEW YORK, July 22 (INS)—The ancient village square presented a colorful scene. All the villagers and the ruddy-faced peasants were dressed in their sober, Sunday-best black.

This was a big occasion. For not only was it the national fete day; it was by rare coincidence the day on which the "Tour de France," the famous bicycle race which circled the nation each year and which was by far the most important of all French sports events, was to pass through the village.

It was July Fourteenth, 1939. The war clouds were rolling up fast in the east then and every man and woman there knew it down in his heart, but like their compatriots everywhere they resolutely turned their eyes away from it to concentrate on the pleasures at hand.

As we sat at a cafe terrace, watching the scene in the square and sipping the cider for which Brittany is famous, it began to rain.

"Ha," exclaimed my friend, the Vicompte De M——, "it rains. Good. This is the day of the proletariat and it will be spoiled. The canaille will get a wetting."

We laughed at the vicompte's cynical jose. But it was not just a joke. He was an ardent Rightist, a confirmed Royalist, and he more than half meant what he said.

Back in Labaule that night there was a patriotic program in the biggest Salle des Fetes of the Casino. The audience buzzed boredly as a local politician rattled off his platitudes. And when a one-time star of the Opera Comique came on the stage as Marianne, wrapped in the tricolor, there were open snigglers.

It is true she was a bit wheezy and looked rather outlandish, but I was rather shocked to see people drifting out to the baccarat and roulette rooms before she had finished the Marseillaise.

That was the extreme Right, six weeks before the war started . . .

One day in October, I saw my former cook walking down the grand boulevards. She and her husband were Communists.

"We might as well let the Boches come in," she said, bitterly. "We would be — worse off. We are working the ten-hour day now, at no increase in pay and there are armed guards mobile everywhere in the factory and soldiers outside it. You can't do anything. A friend of mine came in eight minutes late the other day and do you know what they did? They fired her. When she protested she was arrested.

"I'd like to shoot all the politicians and the people who are going to get fat on this war. I'd like to see their swini-h heads on pikes and their bodies in the Seine. We could settle with the Boches later."

That was the extreme Left six weeks after the war had started.

I relate these incidents to illustrate one of the more important reasons for the paralysis which crippled France.

To me it was one of the most curious, and at the same time frightening, things I have seen in Europe or anywhere else. Here was a great nation, with the longest history and the proudest military traditions in Europe, watching disaster approach for seven years and doing little but weaken herself before it struck.

Before the war started when everybody knew it was coming—people turned their eyes from it. And after it started there was too much dismal hoping for a miracle, too little organized national effort.

Thus when the hour of the supreme test came, France, which at her best would have been in an uphill fight against a bigger foe, was disunited, filled with internecine hatreds, and unprepared.

For a brief few weeks in September, it seemed the old flame of national unity might be rekindled. But when the attack didn't come immediately, the flame quickly flickered out.

The great mass of French people were brave and ready to make any sacrifice. And the French troops were splendid.

Britain's Sea Loss Heavy, Italy Says

ROME, July 22 (AP)—The Italian high command claimed today to have "positive information" that three British warships, in addition to the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal, were "damaged severely" and suffered "heavy losses" to their crews after the Italian-British Mediterranean naval battle from July 8-13.

Authoritative British sources in London scoffed at Italian claims to "positive information" that three British warships besides the battle cruiser Hood and aircraft carrier Ark Royal had been damaged in the Mediterranean naval battle two weeks ago.—Editor's Note.

The Italian high command also reported a British plane shot down in flames, and "effective" bombardment of British bases and positions in North and East Africa.

The communique said the additional warships which were damaged were a 31,000-ton battleship of the warship class, the 10,000-ton cruiser Gloucester and the 5900-ton cruiser Arethusa

Italian Ports Hit In British Raids

CAIRO, July 22 (AP)—Heavy damage to the Italian Libyan port of Tobruk and the nearby airdrome of El Gubbi in week-end raids was reported today in a British communique.

The communique said:

"Tobruk and El Gubbi airdrome nearby suffered considerably from raids by RAF bombers during the week-end.

"Three fires were started at El Gubbi as a result of the bombing, one being seen over 60 miles away.

"Tobruk shipping was damaged, fires were caused on a jetty and a direct hit was registered on a large crane.

"Military targets at Bardia, eastern Libyan port, also were attacked successfully.

"A formation of Italian bombers, supported and protected by a large force of fighters, raided Malta twice. One bomber was believed to have been vitally hit by anti-aircraft fire."

3 STATES DUE TO GET REDS' O. K.

MOSCOW, July 22 (AP)—An early session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, is expected to approve the requests of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia for membership in the Soviet Union.

The addition of the three states will increase Russia's Baltic sea front as well as her land frontier with Germany. Their 5,500,000 inhabitants will boost the Soviet population to around 190,000,000.

With the three Baltic states members of the Soviet family, the number of independent allied republics in the Soviet Union will be increased to 15, compared to 11 a year ago. A 16th, the Moldavian republic created from Bessarabia and Northern Bucovina ceded by Rumania, is expected soon to be formally proclaimed.

The first of the newly added territory was the Karelian-Finnish Republic? carved out of the area obtained from Finland.

A dispatch to London from Goteborg quoted Swedish sources as saying Karl Ulmanis, former president of Latvia, was gravely wounded and in a hospital at Riga. Latvia's new Communist rulers decreed the ouster last week of 62-year-old Ulmanis, who helped write the Latvia declaration of independence in 1918.—Editor's Note.

Hungary Threatens Row Over Rumanian-Red Pact

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—Hints that Rumania may seek shelter from Balkan political storms in the arms of Soviet Russia brought immediate opposition today from Hungary, according to reliable information in London.

Any effort, it was learned, to form a "popular front" government in Rumania as a result of Russian pressure will meet with immediate retaliation in the form of renewed animosity from Hungary and speedy renewal of Hungarian claims for Transvivania, former Hungarian territory handed to Rumania after the World War.

At the same time, according to London informants, any German effort to bring about "complete Nazification" of Rumania will be met by immediate Russian retaliation

Nazi Air Decoys Don't Fool Foes

LONDON, July 22 (INS)—The Germans are "planting" decoys in the air to throw British defending planes off the course of the heavy attacks.

In these operations, the Germans are throwing old bombers and seaplanes in front of British fighter patrols, while the speedy, powerful attacking bombers sneak overhead. Already, this ruse has been tried three times, but in each case it failed and the bombing formations were dispersed before reaching their objectives, authorities said.

Former French Envoy Sails from England

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Charles Corbin, former French ambassador to Great Britain, was disclosed today to have sailed in a British liner for South America.

30,000 NAZI WOUNDED

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) (by Radio)—A German shortwave broadcast heard by NBC said approximately 30,000 wounded German soldiers have arrived in Heidelberg from France remain any moral barriers so far as we are concerned.

FARMER WILLKIE—Continuing his task of getting better acquainted with the American farm problem, Wendell Willkie, Republican Presidential nominee, visits a sugar beet field at Brighton, Colo., and gets a first-hand account of the beet-raising procedure from Farmer Emil Ehlen.

"We will then take up the challenge with a free conscience, although we are convinced that if the English people had an opportunity to escape from Churchill's thumb they would talk differently.

BLITZ WITHOUT PARALLEL

"But since they cannot, we must assume they are willing to follow along Churchill's road to doom."

Stressing the "great awakening" which will come to England in event of German attack, Propaganda Minister Goebbels' newspaper, Der Angriff, said

"There is no parallel in history for what will occur. In British experience, it will be absolutely novel."

The newspaper Nachtausgabe said:

"It is apparently all the same to Churchill whether the English people are to be plunged from their illusory heaven. It matters not to him what fearful fate will overtake England if its people are egged on to turn francstireurs (snipers) and shoot German soldiers."

This was an obvious reference to Churchill's anouncement that London and other English cities would be defended "street by street and house by house."

Willkie to See Cheyenne Rodeo

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 22 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie arranged to leave here today for the so-called "daddy of all rodeos" in Cheyenne, Wyo., tomorrow.

The Republican presidential nominee was expected to fly from Cheyenne to Salt Lake City for a Latter Day Saints meeting and then return here.

Plans called for a stay in Denver tonight and then a train trip to Cheyenne. Several train stops were scheduled en route so that Willkie could make brief talks.

TROOPS TO PANAMA

PORTLAND, Me., July 22 — A detachment of 234 men and officers of the 8th U. S. Coast Artillery today were headed for New York where they will board the army transport American Legion for Panama and two and a half years' duty in the Canal Zone

Authors Support Willkie's Race

KENNEBUNKPORT Me., July 22—Wendell Willkie can claim the support of two of America's four most novelists today, Booth Tarkington and Kenneth Roberts.

Tarkington, like the Republican nominee a favorite son of Indiana, said Wilkie will give the country a business-like government and will not meddle in businessmen's private affairs.

His neighbor author, Roberts, writer of "Northwest Passage" and other stories of early New England, lashed at what he called the wastefulness of the present administration.

BEACHCOMBER HAS SMASH SHOW

Gay, Beauteous Line On Sheraton Roof

By SAM BERENSON

By a hot-weather instinct unique to the profession, biggies of our p. m. bowers are impelled to a collective rush toward expense cutting at the first suggestion of brow-mopping along the Rialto . . . the fairest of gal-lines are dropped, bassoon players draw a three-month suspension, and the pocketbook generally is pulled tighter than an orphan's belt.

In view of which tradition, the present type of merriment resounding about the Hub is nothing short of amazing . . . rhythm is currently emerging from the gay-places as temptingly as ever before; suave club talent is beguiling the stay-uplates . . . it may be summer, but this time the accent's on slick entertainment . . . a grand break for the Phineas Q. Publics.

News out of Hollywood has it that Paul Whiteman has parted ways with his band . . . which, more's the pity, means that Paul's scheduled date with the Ritz Roof is off . . . It's a dancing show this week at the Cocoanut Grove, wherein feature honors go to the nimble-toed pair of Rossilianos . . . aiding and abetting a stellar revue are Buster & Billy Burnell, with the held-over Roy Davis . . . Mickey Alpert continues to pour forth with the town's most danceable rhythm . . . Jimmy Dorsey's band planes this evening from New York to Houston for a one-night stand at a birthday party . . . $3800 plus expenses . . . Frank Cronin, skilled shouter of the wares of the Latin Quarter, reports that the Silver Beach plaisance is thriving on a capacity business . . . a delightful spot for your out-of-town calling . . . Art Rubin is doing a commendable job with his Saturday night soirees at Paul Sutton's Pemberton Inn . . . The now-you see-it-now-you-don't roof at the Mayfair adds a praiseworthy comfort to the fast-paced revues so consistent at this gathering spot . . . hence the assurance that tonight's brilliant show will be cast in a cool and comfortable setting.

Izzy Ort, the esquire of Essex st., leaves at week's end to visit his daughter at the Fryeburg, Maine, camps . . . night in and night out surrounded by glamour girls at the Grille . . . and he has to go to Maine yet! . . . Johnny Burke and Jimmy Monaco, Bing Crosby's ace song-writing team, have split . . . Burke is now working on the Benny-Allen flicker . . . A gay show this evening at the Lawrence Hofbrau, where the typical Hofbrau variety and speed is certain to draw a capacity throng . . . plenty of action . . . Nice tune-spinning, that of Dale Stanley at Cappy's No. Easton spot . . . plus a star-streaked revue well meriting your attention . . . Dorgan's Old Harbor House, with the lure of dancing, entertainment, and shore dinners, continues to play an important part in the schedule of steppers-out . . . an enjoyable evening is always to be found here . . .

When casting around for a cool spot to dine and relax these mid-summer evenings, smart gad-abouts remember that Blinstrub's Village is still putting on one of the best shows in town.

The Beachcomber, one of the most thriving oases of our village, ushers in the week with a smashing show that suggests terrific business for this sizzling parlor . . . sparkling exotic entertainment has spelled a remarkable success for this hostelry . . . And the lights beckon from the roof tops; it's Jimmy McHale and his music-makers blending with a delightful revue this week at the Westminster . . . a recommended diversion . . . Will Bradley's band—with the illustrious McKinley drums—opens tonight atop the Ritz . . . a MUST take-in for the dance minded . . . While on the cool Sheraton Roof a gay and beauteous show plus the nifty downbeating of Johnny Cole add up to another fascinating attraction . . . Nice goings-on at the Fox & Hounds, where a good share of the p. m. set nightly dances to the Jason Tomas' crew . . . The merry Essex Grill carries on with its gay summer offerings . . . a gally balanced show, featuring talent and beauty, makes its debut this evening . . . an engaging bill.

A new bit of razzle-dazzlery smacks open the week at Harry Sosnik's swift-tempo'd Silver Dollar Bar . . . continues the policy of a trio of name bands and a four-time presentation of their gay floor show . . . a busy hostelry . . . "Tuna Fisher" Ribby, bossman of the up-roaring Allston Cafe, seems to be spending little time at his attractive spot . . . for it's summer and there's the call of the rod and reel . . . and Ribby is still after that Atlantic Coast tuna record . . . Dinty Moore has succeeded in bringing the atmosphere of the sea-shore to town in his air-cooled dining room . . . a delightful spot, with its congenial setting . . . and famed Cocktail Bar.

Actor's Wife Asks Court's Protection

LOS ANGELES, July 22 (INS)—Declaring that her husband threatened her life and pawned her engagement ring, Mrs. Lydia M. Tracy, 23, today held a court order restraining Film Actor Robert Tracy from molesting her.

The young wife charged that the actor pawned the engagement ring when they separated and sent the ticket to his mother in New York.

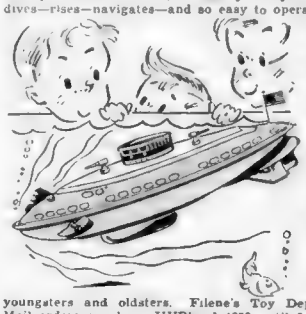
A TIP

Of Course, Every Child Will Want a Diving Toy Submarine—at Filene's For $1

Here's a toy that every child will really like and enjoy—a toy diving submarine that does nearly everything the big ones do—dives—rises—navigates—and so easy to operate. If the youngsters are at the beach or the lake they'll have countless hours of fun and fascination watching the "sub" speed along the surface, suddenly begin to dive and then come up again — and so much fun for the youngsters at home—in the bathtub or the pool. All you do is wind it by key and adjust for a deep or shallow dive. It's 13½ inches long and comes equipped with an American flag —American made, too. It's really fun for both youngsters and oldsters. Filene's Toy Department, third floor. Mail orders or phone HUBbard 4250 until 9 p. m. except Sunday.



Advance Showing! Baby Boy Suits At Grants For Only 59c

If you'll look at the little boy suits sketched at the left then I think that you'll agree that "Butch" will certainly look like the latest edition of Esquire in them. They're the cutest suits I've seen in a long while. Made so well they'll stand almost any wear that the important man of the family can give them. They do up so easily that it's no effort at all—and tubfast, too. Comes in either the jumper style or the belted. For only 59c each I'm sure that you will want at least one of each style once you've seen them. Colors are in Royal Blue, Brown, Wine, Green, Teal Blue, solid colors and combinations—sizes 2 to 6. Skipper's Gun Puts 2 Whales to Flight

Followed by two gigantic whales Capt. William J. Van Leer of the fishing boat Charlesbank II reared them away from the boat by firing his revolver at them. The incident took place just a mile off Graves Lighthouse.

Capt Van Leer, watching the mammals gradually working closer to the boat, decided on gun action after being faced with the alternative of trying to frighten them away and possibly infuriating them, or of ignoring them and having them smash the boat.

Trailer Shooting Called Suicide

The death of Mrs. Annette Sheesley, 50, whose body was found in her luxurious trailer near a carnival in which she had a shooting gallery concession, was declared a suicide today by Dr. David C. Dow, Cambridge medical examiner.

A bullet from one of the target rifles in the victim's collection caused the fatal wound police said, which led Cambridge detectives to question several of the carnival employes at length.

The carnival was finally permitted to move from Memorial Drive in Cambridge to Troy N. Y. after investigators ascertained that Mrs. Sheesley had been despondent recently over an apparent separation from her husband.

Hunt Sniper Who Shot Girl

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., July 22—A mystery sniper, a slug from whose rifle wounded Eleanor Moore, 25, of Wilcox rd., Dorchester Mass., was sought by police today.

The bullet, .22-caliber struck Miss Moore in the left thigh as she was standing on the beach. She said she felt a sting in her leg, then discovered the wound.

She was treated by a doctor, who said the injury was superficial and not dangerous.

Mistress Mary's Garden

Vegetables for Fall

By T. W. LEGGETT

This is the time to replant your garden for a bountiful supply of fresh-grown vegetables until cold weather, suggests the Agricultural Extension Service.

Early plantings of spinach, leaf or head lettuce, radishes, green onions and peas—are the first vegetables used, followed closely by early beets, cabbage, carrots and teens. This harvest results in a part of the garden being made vacant by July.

Many vegetables may be planted in these vacant spaces for fall maturity, canning and storing. Sweet corn may be planted until July 22 and 29, provided early and second early varieties are used.

Bush snap beans also may be planted now. They are best for canning, if picked while tender before the seeds bulge the pods.

Celery for fall and winter may be set out this week. Fordhook, Emperior, and Houser are good late varieties.

Yellow Globe and White Globe turnips have time to grow to a good size if sown the last of July.

Hollywood Paragraphs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 22—Joan Fontaine, who says she knew nothing of being signed for "Back Street" until she read it in my column, hasn't made up her mind to make the picture. She was signed by David Selznick and she says if she doesn't report at Universal she will have to go on suspension. Said Joan:

"Rather than make a picture that I feel isn't right for me, I would go on suspension. I am not saying I won't do 'Back Street,' I haven't even read the script yet, but I would like to follow 'Rebecca' with a story that is worthy of that picture."

I can hally believe Dickie Jones is 13. Seems only yesterday that he was knee high to a grasshopper. He was on the radio with me and he wasn't more than six. Well, anyway, Dickie had his motion picture contract approved in Judge Emmett Wilson's court on Thursday. Harry Sokolow represented young Mr. Jones who has signed a contract with Frank Lloyd. Frank will soon start on his three picture independent deal for Universal. Dickie, who was in "The Howards of Virginia," will have a part in the first Lloyd picture.

Chatter in Hollywood: Owing to the war in France Constance Bennett declared her plans to divorce Le Marquis De La Falaise. Now that France is out of the war picture it seems likely that the debonair marquis will be served with papers.

Globe Reveals Vice Racket

Reminiscent of one of the most sensational newspaper stories of a year or so ago is "Smashing The Vice Racket," which opens a week's run at the Globe Theater today.

The story was suggested by the "Lucky" Luciano trial which uncovered one of the most far-flung vice rings ever known in New York. The witness-stand revelations hogged the headlines and stirred a nation.

Prominently featured in this melodramatic production are Wally Costello, Florence Dudley and Gay Sheridan.

On the gayer and infinitely less consequential side is "I Met Him in Paris," one of those light as eiderdown comedies providing fascinating Claudette Colbert and charming Melvyn Douglas an excellent outlet for their unquestionable talents. It is the co-feature.

'The Spider' In Cambridge

The Cambridge Summer Theater is offering a generous prize to anyone who can solve the mystery of "The Spider," now playing at Brattle Hall—that is, anyone who has not already seen this thrilling mystery drama. To those who are theatrically wise it will be easy to recall the exceptional success that followed the production of this mastery play when it was originally presented by Sam H. Harris in New York several years ago.

With James Rennie in the leading role and the entire Broadway company and student group in support "The Spider" as presented by the Cambridge Summer Theater at Brattle Hall is probably one of the most ambitious undertakings ever tackled by a summer theater group.

Louella O. Parsons' Hollywood Column is a daily report on happenings in the world's film capital. Read it daily in the Boston American and on Sunday in the Advertiser.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT is co-starred with Melvyn Douglas in "I Met Him in Paris," now showing at the Globe Theater along with "Smashing the Vice Racket."

'Reefer' Film Still at Beacon

"Reefer Madness" is still running on at the Beacon and claiming the attention of those eager to know all about the inside of marihuana drug tragedies.

The marihuana weed is an old menace that masquerades under various names. It is called hashish in the Near East, Indian hay in the Far East and loco weed out in the prairie states. It seems to flourish like all weeds and it bears a bad name wherever it grows. Hashish drives Egyptians to violent crime, Indian hay sends men running amok and out West victims of "loco" are handled as crazy persons. That's what loco is—insane, irresponsible. Cowboys avoid the weed as they would a rattlesnake and watch their horses, who go wild when they nibble it.

In the film feature at the Beacon the weed is taken in cigarette or "reefer" form and the young men and women who use it go from bad to worse.

Carleton Young plays the reefer racketeer role. Thelma White appears as his girl partner and the roles of victims are played by Lillian Miles, Dorothy Short, Dave O'Brien and Kenneth Craig.

THE ABOLITION of the French parliament as the instrument of the will of the people of France, following the total extinction of the parliamentary principle in Germany, Italy, Russia, Rumania, and even in England, should bring UPPERMOST in the mind of every American the supreme and vital importance of vigorously re-affirming his faith, as never before, in the CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The heart of the United States as a political institution has, like the human heart, two valves that are absolutely necessary to life—a right valve, which is the CONSTITUTION, and a left valve, which is CONGRESS.

The strength of one rises or falls with the strength or weakness of the other.

This double-valvular heart of ours is the source of our very breath.

That breath is LIBERTY.

Next fall there is a Congress to be elected.

TO PRESERVE our democratic processes it is necessary for all Americans to see that we elect a CONSTITUTION-MINDED CONGRESS rather than an EXECUTIVE-MINDED CONGRESS—

A Congress that will look for guidance in all matters of legislation to the Constitution, and not to the executive—

A Congress that will have its ears always cocked in the direction of the "people back home" rather than in the direction of the White House—

A Congress that will remain the SINGLE BRIGHT BEACON of democratic expression in a world that is living in a black-out of dictators—

A Congress that in war or peace will always be jealous of its constitutional prerogatives—

A Congress that will say NO to the President (whoever he may be) when that President tries to impose his personal "ology" on the will of the people, of which the Congress of the United States is the manifest embodiment.

SHIRKING CONGRESSMEN should have no place in a democracy such as ours.

As, for instance:

Measures of great importance to the people have been passed without having been read by many congressmen.

Again, measures have been passed with nearly half the chambers absent.

Measures have been passed without any regard for their constitutionality.

The future of our country as a free democracy depends on preserving Congress in the full growth and power of its constitutional mandates.

As George Washington said in a great crisis:

"Let none but Americans be put on guard!"

So in this crisis in our national destiny we say to the electorate that will go to the polls next November:

"LET NONE BUT STRICT CONSTITUTIONALISTS BE SENT TO CONGRESS TO GUARD THE REPUBLIC!"

"ACADEMIC FREEDOM" is the slogan that is being used to cover up subversive teachings in our schools and colleges.

But "academic freedom" does NOT mean ACADEMIC LICENSE.

It does not mean that we must permit the teaching of doctrines that are subversive to our form of government or our way of life.

A timely warning against Fifth Column activities in our educational institutions was voiced the other day by William S. Taylor, dean of the University of Kentucky, when he charged before the National Education Association, in session at Milwaukee, that "certain teachers in this country are hiding under the cloak of academic freedom in disseminating subversive and un-American doctrines."

The principles of academic freedom, said Mr. Taylor, "must not and will not be a shield for such activities."

It is absolutely necessary for the future preservation of our institutions that all REAL AMERICAN educators and teachers should actively indorse the campaign against these poisonous teachings in our curricula that Dean Taylor has undertaken.

One of the causes of the wide dissemination of Communistic sentiment in such organizations as the American Youth Congress is the latitude that has been allowed certain alien-minded professors and teachers in our schools and colleges.

The Constitution of the United States is the greatest course our teachers can give their pupils in "academic freedom."

Our "academic freedom" must stem from Independence Hall, not from the Kremlin.

IT IS A REFRESHING experience these days to walk from the hustle and bustle of the city streets into a quiet church and just sit and think for a little while. Many Manhattan churches offer this opportunity. If you haven't already, try it some time . . . Navy Man Samuel F. Wade hauled into court a cafe owner he said had discriminated against him because he was in a sailor's uniform. Good for Sailor Wade. There is too much of such discrimination going on in this country. Brings to mind Kipling's:

For it's Tommy this an' Tommy that,
An' "Chuck 'im out the brute!"
But it's "Saviour of 'is country"
When the guns begin to shoot.

AMONG THE unusual sights and sounds encountered this week was a feminine quartette of cocktail lounge patrons . . . A Mr. Douglas Hertz who has a polo field in New Jersey boasts he has "introduced polo to the masses." Polo was being played on the public parade grounds of prospect Park, Brooklyn, over thirty years ago . . . communication from client who spells name Chrystine, changing an I to Y gives a name a touch of class. Or that's what some girls think . . . What is the most dangerous job in New York a high school lad asks. Will have to look into that. It may be that of "sand-hog," the fellows who work at building under-water tunnels. A sand-hog gets $14 an hour but only works one hour a day. He faces many dangers chief of which is of getting that terrible affliction known as "the bends" . . . Making hand-bags to order is quite a business in Italy. Women of that country feel about hand-bags as American females do about hats. They want their bag to be different from any other woman's.

TERRY LAWLOR, the band canary, is billed as "The Red-Headed Colleen of Song." She's at the Ross-Fenton farm, a night club on the Wickapecker road near Asbury Park, N. J. This "farm" was originally owned by Charles Ross and Mabel Fenton, famous theatrical team. Remember Charles Ross in "Checkers?" Best race horse drama ever if you ask me . . . Howard Dietz, film exploitation expert, originated that line: "See Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard the two lovers of Smilin' Thru come smilin' thru in Romeo and Juliet." Mr. Dietz receives a salary of about $750 per week . . . Billy Watson. Yes, Sir. Same old Billy of the Beef Trust burlesque. There was another burlesque star of the same name but professionally he called himself "Sliding Billy" Watson because he slid on the stage instead of walking on in making entrances.

IN CONNECTICUT drivers with good records can have "initial" license plates. For instance in that state I could have a license TEVD7 . . . Net income of Brenda Frazier, now and then glamorous socialite, is $135,000 annually.

-:- MY DAY

HYDE PARK, July 22—Saturday I motored down right after breakfast to Algonac, Newburgh, N. Y., where my mother-in-law, her brother and sister were anxiously watching the life of their oldest sister, Mrs. D. D. Forbes, fade away.

To the end we hoped she would rally, because even at 92 a marvelous constitution stands one in good stead. But, as I looked at her Saturday, I could not help feeling that, for her it would be easier to pass on to a realm where the problems of this world are left behind.

Mrs. Forbes lived for many years in Paris, and I think the things which have befallen the French nation in the last few weeks had been hard for her to bear.

It is true that as one grows older and can look back on varied experiences, one becomes more reconciled and accepts whatever comes in a spirit of resignation.

But Mrs. Forbes was always so young in spirit, that I have felt these latest blows were hard for her to look upon with calmness.

TO ALL the younger members of the family, Mrs. Forbes was a symbol of how to grow old gracefully and still retain a hold on the interests of youth. Every one of my children was deeply concerned about her welfare, as well as that of their own grandmother who feels this sorrow greatly.

In the afternoon, we celebrated little Franklin III's second birthday. He had one small cousin at supper with him and the two sat on the south porch of the big house, at a little table which was gaily decorated with yellow paper napkins and tablecloth.

On their first meeting, little Leila and Franklin had not been entirely friendly, but this time they had an amicable visit and seemed to enjoy their presents.

We sat up Saturday night until a late hour discussing what kind of a world young people, starting out today, are going to find themselves living in. I confess I think a good many of them have had rather poor training for the uncertainties of the future.

It seems to me that whatever may happen, the ambitions of the past and the expectations that life will be as it has always been, have very little justification in fact.

These speculations, however, are probably good for us, for every one of us has to go on from day to day meeting the situation as it develops and hoping to find somewhere within ourselves, the qualities and the intelligence to encounter whatever the future may hold in store.

I woke yesterday morning to rain, but it cleared off and we had a peaceful day, with some young people to lunch. That always means gaiety and much discussion.

VANDERBILT HOME JOKER'S TARGET

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, July 22—REALTY DEPT.: Frank Sullivan, Saratoga's Favorite Son, feels that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt should have leased a more elegant house for the racing season there. That's why, last week, Sullivan had signs painted, and, after midnight, unnoticed, placed them in front of his own house and the houses of his friends. Those signs read. "Before You Condemn My House—Take a Look at Vanderbilt's."

* * *

FINANCE DEPT.: Yip Harburg, who wrote the lyrics for the new Al Jolson show, expressed disagreement concerning some of the lines. "I'm the one who'll decide," said Jolson. "I've got $100,000 of my own money invested in this show" . . . When Al kept repeating this statement, Harburg still protested, and reminded, "My Hollywood salary is $1500 a week—and I've put many weeks of work into this show. I have a large stake in it, too" . . . "You're talking like a Red," Jolson declared . . . "No," Harburg clarified, "I'm talking like a capitalist."

ELISSA LANDI

LOCAL NEWS: Mrs. Lionel Stander is at Mt. Sinai Hospital, after an operation . . . Elissa Landi has been signed to play in the dramatization of "Young Man with a Horn" . . . Sabin Carr, Yale's record-holding pole-vaulter, has entered the theatrical field. He is the new associate producer at the New England playhouse in Ridgefield, Conn. . . . Abe Attell, the ex-fistic champ, is purchasing a restaurant at B'way & 52d st.

BUSINESS DEPT.: Clifford Odets supped at Lindy's, and was introduced to Leo Lindy. "This is such a topsy-turvy world," the restaurateur sighed, "the only pleasure I can find is in the Theater" . . . "It's such a topsy-turvy world," Odets agreed, "the only pleasure I can find is eating in Lindy's" . . . "In that case," Leo suggested, "we can straighten the world by swapping our jobs."

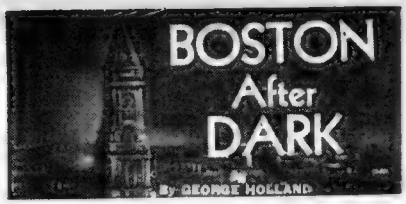
THEATER DEPT.: Sam Harris and his pretty bride spent a week-end at the home of George S. Kaufman. Kaufman heard that Mrs. Harris was called "Ch'na," and asked wherefore . . . "When she smiles," Kaufman was told "her laughing eyes start slanting upwards, and they look Chinese—so we call her 'China' Harris. Do you follow that?" . . . "If I followed that," said George, "I'd be known as 'Palestine' Kaufman."



MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: If other large corporations follow suit in the lead made by American Airlines, the girls of America are going to get a real "break" in employment . . . As air-travelers know, the personnel of the airline servicing Boston is wholly male . . . The reservation clerks and the entire office staff, excepting hostesses and telephone operators, are personable young men . . . But the company foresees a brand of selective military service that will call first on members of the National Guard.

ACCORDINGLY (although this may be denied quite vehemently), a plan is being formulated already whereby young women will be chosen for training in the company's staff . . . (Incidentally, some of the jobs are very attractive) . . . A question arises, to wit: Why should it be necessary to make female replacements of employes who belong to the National Guard when thousands of other young males are available who have no military connection whatever? . . . The answer to that one is simple . . . The company anticipates a country-wide system of selective enrollment in the military — conscription, perhaps, is the word—and having once educated and trained a number of intelligent young men, the airline does not fancy the task of doing the training job all over again . . . Because until details of the conscription plan become known, any young male is a possible soldier

MORE MUSINGS: Disregarding the evil possible effects of bacteria content of the waters washing the shores of Boston, Winthrop, Wollaston, Quincy and other cities and towns, yachtsmen and bathers are experiencing the customary mid-summer discomfort that soils and pollutes the water as regularly as the flood gates of Moon Island and other sewage disposal outlets are opened . . . And in two out of three summer days these gates are opened twice in every 24 hours, or when the tide goes out . . . Meanwhile, the huge Metropolitan District Commission program of "cleaning up Boston Harbor" marks time while surveys are made and commissions ponder and study.

MAYOR TOBIN HAS CONFIDED to intimates that a monument large enough to satisfy his intense zeal for public service would be the installation of a purifying system that would restore Boston harbor to its rightful place as one of the cleanest, most fragrant harbors of the country . . . The Mayor has an important voice in whatever action the MDC takes . . . He is unlikely, his friends say, to stand by unprotesting while brass hats in the engineering and political ranks erect millions of dollars worth of outmoded pipelines, treatment stations, etc . . . The plan recommended to the MDC by a legislative surveying committee, for instance, called for barging tons and tons of sludge far out to sea.

BETTE DAVIS TO STAR IN 'LITTLE FOXES'

By Louella O. Parsons

Bette Davis

HOLLYWOOD, July 22—Pardon me if I say I told you so and call Jack Warner on the carpet for a little public call down. He has given his blessing to Bette Davis and told her that she has his permission to star in "The Little Foxes" for Samuel Goldwyn. I printed some six months ago that Sam was literally moving heaven and earth to get Bette to play the role that Tallulah Bankhead created on the stage. Jack sent me a wire from New York that was pages long and told me in no uncertain terms what he thought of me for printing such a story

So last week when Bette confided to her friends that Jack had finally told her he had no objections to her bringing the Lillian Hellman play to the screen, I decided to remind Jack of that telegram. Bette makes her three for Warners according to her contract. "The Little Foxes" is an outside deal and William Wyler, who is one of Bette's favorite megaphoners, will direct. He is under contract to Goldwyn.

TWO-MINUTE STORY

SINCE the arrival of Aunt Martha's letter the week before, telling of her intended visit to the newly-weds, Madge and Tom had quarreled furiously.

Madge was broken-hearted, for she did think that Tom should side with her about the rug. That rug—a horrible mustard color, sent by Aunt Martha as a wedding gift, and which Madge refused to use in the living room with her beautiful color scheme of copper and blue.

The trouble was that Aunt Martha was rich—and Tom felt that she should not be antagonized, for he hoped that she might perhaps bestow some of her worldly goods on her youngest nephew, goods which he sadly needed, if his young business was to succeed.

MADGE claimed that Aunt Martha had given each of her nephews, in turn, an equally horrible wedding gift, which they had duly gushed over and displayed on her infrequent visits, and none of them had benefited by it by so much as the well known farthing. And she certainly would not spoil her lovely living room for even one day, money or no money.

The day of Aunt Martha's visit arrived, and Madge waited in the hall

"Well-Well,,,so this is my new niece, Hm," and Aunt Martha stalked into the living-room.

"And where, may I ask, is the lovely rug I sent as a wedding gift? I intended it to be used in the living-room."

"I DON'T mean to be rude, Aunt Martha,but your rug wouldn't harmonize with my things, so I really couldn't use it anywhere in the house."

"Perhaps you could change it for something that would?"

Aunt Martha's face broke out in smiles, "well for goodness sake, I was beginning to think that I'd have to leave all my money to charity—none of my other nephews or nieces had the spine of a jelly fish—I purposely bought the worst thing I could find for each of them in turn, to see if they wanted to please me for my money's sake.

"And they certainly did—for I'm sure that anyone who hasn't the gumption to state his true opinion, hasn't the gumption to control money—until I met you, Madge.

"I'm very pleased with your choice, Tom."

LISTEN, WORLD!

A LETTER TO THE AMERICAN YOUTH CONGRESS

DEAR A. Y. C.'s:

Greetings—and let's get down to brass tacks.

Before starting, you can take off the shin guards and hose masks. I'm NOT going into this Communist charge. Though, just between us, if you aren't working for Mister Stalin you're certainly taking a wacky way to prove it. And are the first bunch of red-blooded kids I ever met who weren't willing to climb off the fence and tell with which sides they're playing ball.

HOWEVER, it's not my business to investigate your political leanings. Nor am I going to raise the usual Oldster rumpus against your Youth . . . or dispute your right to debate the policies of a nation which you will soon be running. To the contrary, I honor and delight in your Youth and, I hope, have proved it.

In short, I'm a million strong for You Kids. You're a great gang, with a grand purpose. But in one respect you are certainly asking for a shellacking—and I hope you get it. And that isn't because your policies are dangerous or your power perilous. It's simply because—

YOUR MANNERS ARE SO ROTTEN THAT YOU ARE MAKING A SPECTACLE OF YOURSELVES . . . ALIENATING THOSE WHO WERE YOUR WARMEST BACKERS AND GIVING YOUR ENEMIES A CHANCE TO CACKLE "I TOLD YOU SO!"

You marched into Washington . . . you assembled in your recent conclave . . . and on both occasions you made blatant boobies of yourselves.

TO you had been given the greatest opportunity Youth has ever enjoyed. You were the picked representatives of your generation. You had good ideas to present. And you doubled-crossed them all—yourselves, your generation, your program and policies, and those who believed in you—by acting like raucous rowdies, half-baked hicks and hoodlums. Obviously some of you are highly pleased by this fact and fondly imagine you're the nation's dangerous Big Noise. Don't kid yourselves! You're merely its LAUGHING STOCK!

There are fine young people among you—young people who must be deeply dismayed and humiliated by this fact. If they are, let them speak up and vindicate their own dignity. As for the rest of you, GO HOMM AND PLAY CHOO-CHOO! THE KNOCKERS WERE RIGHT. THEY HAD YOUR NUMBER.

ELSIE ROBINSON.

A NEW CROP of tall fish stories is being manufactured down on the Cape this summer where a group of amateur Isaak Waltons have formed a surf-casting club and spend a couple of evenings a week indulging this latest vogue in summer sports . . .

Armed with such paraphernalia as bathing suits, picnic baskets, surf-casting rods and tackle, the fishermen get together for a beach picnic a couple of times a week . . . For after-supper sport and amusement they wade out into the surf and vie with one another to see who can cast the farthest or catch the biggest fish . . .

Members of this group, who had their largest picnic of the season yesterday, include Edward Kidder, president; Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. John Manson, Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Cathcart, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Loomis Johnston, Miss Eleanor Lamb, Mrs. Charles Shattuck, Mr. Frank T. Munson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Howes, Jr. . . .

THESE two youthful sailors, Sandra Phippen and her brother Clark, are perfectly confident that nothing will happen as long as their boat is on terra firma and their mother, Mrs. Henry O. Phippen, Jr., is at the helm. The Phippens' home is Brookhill, Wenham.

NOT CONTENT with the usual summer program of lolling around beach clubs, sailing and dancing, any number of society girls are busying themselves with interesting occupations this year . . . The "glammer" of the stage and meeting theatrical stars has lured Eleanor Harding of Chestnut Hill, who is getting expert training in behind-the-scenes activities at the Cambridge summer treater . . . Virginia Grant of Wellesley Farms, one of next winter's debs, is putting her theatrical talent to good use in working over at the Cambridge theater, too . . .

Post deb Daphne Withington of Milton is teaching in a summer kindergarten on the South Shore, and her sister, Patricia, who is very interested in art, is enjoying her new world of cues and asides, scenery painting and designing with the South Shore Players group in Cohasset . . .

Mrs. William B. Long surrounded by Cohasset's small fry as she acquired a golden tan on Sandy Beach . . . Mr. and Mrs. Long, always active in summer time social activities, are helping out with plans for the Cohasset horse show next month . . .

NOT ALLOWING either her golf clubs or her game to get rusty, Priscilla Eddy of West Newton has won several recent competitions at Whitefield, N. H., where she and her mother, Mrs. George H. Eddy, are visiting at the Mountain View House . . . While her mother and friends watch from the wide verandah of the new sports house, Priscilla and other golfing enthusiasts make a daily round of the course . . .

Bostonians Flock to Mountains

MOUNTAIN AIR and a gay sports program have lured many Bostonians to White Mountain resorts where this past week-end was one of the gayest of the season . . . Picnics, mountain climbing and golf were among the activities enjoyed by Miss Ethel S. Hooper of Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mrs. Mason Rogers of Belmont, Miss Esther Edwards and Mr. Charles Edwards of Milton, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius R. Davis of Hingham, who are visitors at Spalding Inn . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Chamberlain of Brookline, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy Pope of Dedham and Miss Irene Sampson of Newton, are among recent arrivals at the Mountain View House . . .

New Fur Styles Arrive

By ANNICE BRINK

JUNE in January seems a far pleasanter thought than January in July . . . but not when it comes to your new mink. For that's a sweet thought in the doggiest of summer days. And right now the new fur fashions are readying for midsummer display.

We've been anticipating a change in style for the collarless round neckline which has predominated in silver fox jackets. And very cute is the new idea. The popular 36-inch length coat is that by general choice, and one model has a deep round sailor collar that lies flat in back and comes over the shoulders to form tuxedo revers down the front. Another jacket has a clever idea—a separate piece to make a collar when ever you want a change, or the winds blow with extra sharpness. It's just a round shaped piece of fur that in the front is doubled under in "blouse" effect.

Great coats, with much more fullness, will be very good. Nice in skunk or fine raccoon. In these a small roll collar is featured, and shoulders as in most furs are clean-cut, flat and square.

Border hem-line treatment of fur pelts is also interesting. They're swung away from the opening in an "L" that's very smart. And, thank goodness, the slimming vertical treatment of pelts is very much uppermost.

Muffs are going to be awfully good again; but this year they're softer and more feminine looking, though they're quite as big as the large flat muffs of past seasons. A barrel muff is interesting; one shown recently measures 32 inches in circumference!

Socialites At Opening

Mrs. William Phillips of North Beverly, wife of the U. S. ambassador to Italy, Natalie Hays Hammond, and Mrs. Horatio Hathaway of Gloucester, will be among the first to view a new portrait of Actress Pauline Lord, leading lady in "The Late Christopher Bean" at the Bass Rocks Theater this evening.

The portrait, painted during rehearsals last week by Emile Gruppe of Cape Ann, will be part of the properties of the first act set.

Other prominent North Shore socialities attending the opening this evening include Mrs. Samuel Warren of Essex, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris of Manchester, Mrs. Andrew N. Winslow of Bass Rocks, Mrs. Evans R. Dick of Beverly Farms, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Proctor, 2d, of Topefield, Mrs. Percy Chase of Beverly Farms, Miss Louise Condit of Bass Rocks and Miss Anne Blake.

NATURALLY SKINNY?

MAKE THIS "BUILD-UP" TEST FOR FLATTERING NEW POUNDS

Here's new hope and encouragement for many men and women who are skinny, weak and ailing. A frequent cause of these conditions is that the system receives an inadequate supply of minerals, iodine and Vitamin B in the average daily diet . . . Insufficient to help replace the thousands of blood and tissue cells in your body that are broken down in the course of each day's normal living.

For the body to build new cells, rich red blood, solid pounds and day-long strength and vitality, you should "re-fuel" with these vital elements. Tonics that just stimulate, may give you a temporary relief—but you need something more lasting.

Now there is a way to help replace these precious substances in the body. A recently discovered sea-plant has been found to contain, in natural form, a rich supply of iodine. This plant, combined with modern requirements of iron, copper, calcium, phosphorus and an abundance of Vitamin B, comes to you as KELPAMALT—the famous tonic that has shown thousands a way to new health and strength.

Start "re-fueling" your system with Kelpamalt today. Test these Mineralized and B-Vitamin-ized tablets for one week! Many folks note quick, definite results. They report a quick pick-up in appetite and pounds gained . . . say they eat, sleep, look and feel better. Money back if YOU are not satisfied with results. Kelpamalt costs but little to use. SPRAY SILVER GERMICIDE

You Can Be Beautiful

ALL YOU NEED . . . to keep your feet rested, smooth and pretty . . . is contained in this new "pedikit," a beauty find Arline Gould describes today.

Let's Pamper The Feet

By ARLINE GOULD

PAMPER your feet . . . and it'll show in your face! Contented feet counteract tired-frown wrinkles . . . in the hot summer, they really need a specialized treatment. No matter how you prettify your toes with nail polishes, your feet just won't look nice unless they're smooth and soft.

One of the nicest items we've ever seen is a "pedikit" and it is one which gets right down to cases. It admits that even a glamour girl can have . . . horrid word . . . callouses . . . and gives you everything you need to beautify and bring comfort to even badly neglected feet.

It's a compact little slide-fastened set that is a good traveler, because everything in it is so neatly packed, with not a jostle or a loosened cap possible.

In it you'll find callous remover, to help feet to silken smoothness, a pumice stone, a tube of the most wonderfully cooling mentholated foot cream, and pads of cotton felt to help you really campaign against callouses.

Here is how you go about it. Moisten a pad in callous remover and place it on the spot, using one of the adhesive strips attached to fasten it down. If the callous is especially troublesome, use a pumice stone, but very gently, first. Keep the pad or pads on for three to six minutes. Remove, rinse the feet, and work away loosened surfaces with a rough towel. Do this several days in a row, if necessary.

When you massage your feet, try a salon trick that's grand for a relaxed, eased feeling. Work the cream in well from toes to ankles. Spread the toes. Start with thumbs below and fingers above, at center of foot, and work outward (hands moving in opposite directions) with a round and round "pulling" movement.

If you'd like to learn more about this new "pedikit," phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, weekdays except Saturday, or write, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

State Homemakers' Program

By MARTHA LEE

Many of you may be interested in attending the activities at Amherst at the Massachusetts State College in connection with Farm and Home Week—July 23 to 26. It is anticipated that over a thousand of the visitors will be women who will come from every county in the State to take part in the special homemakers' program.

There will be daily sessions on the subjects of "Community Organization and Recreation," "Food Preservation" and "Homemaking." We are sure you will find these sessions interesting and helpful.

A nursery for children under six years of age will be maintained during Farm and Home Week so that mothers may feel free to bring their children. A trained nurse and qualified assistants will be on hand between the hours of 9:00 and 5:00 p. m. There will be story telling and organized play for the youngsters.

We wish we had room to tell you about all the subjects that are to be covered in the program, but we shall give you a sample:

Canning Fruits and Vegetables
Breads for Variety
More Common Sense in the Rock Garden
Before Buying Home Furnishings
Rug Making
Salads for Summer Days
Home Candy Making
Intelligent Care of Home Plants
Care of Our Children's Teeth
Garden Tools and Equipment
Window Treatments

Everyone who possibly can get away will want to attend these sessions because they offer a wealth of information.

Successful Operation

By Terry James

JANE LAY in the hospital bed and reviewed her life darkly. It wasn't that she was on the point of dying. As a matter of fact she was recovering from an operation for appendicitis very nicely. It was just, she reflected, that they were treating her for one thing and she was suffering from something entirely different.

The Cast of Characters in "Successful Operation"

JANE, who, while hospitalized, contemplates her marriage to STEPHEN.
CAROL, a nurse.
BILL, Jane's attending physician, who thinks pretty well of his patient.

She was the only one who knew she had as nice a case of heart trouble as anyone could find.

It had all been so simple until her appendix started to kick up. She'd been happy, or at least content. She'd had her future all arranged as neatly as a budget. She had been sure that she had made the right choice when she decided to marry Stephen Carr.

That decision was the reason she was here in this small hospital, instead of being a peaceful nonentity in a large city hospital. Stephen's family had insisted on her staying with them for a month before her marriage. They wanted to give her the parties and excitement due an engaged girl. She had no father and mother of her own but Stephen's parents had stepped into the breach and made her feel she was one of them.

They'd been unbelievably sweet and kind. Then when she got sick they saw that she had the best room in the local hospital. They saw that her supply of flowers was always replenished. They saw that her doctor was the best in the State.

Unfortunately, that doctor was also the most fascinating man Jane had ever known. He was young to have gained so wide-spread a reputation. He was only about thirty-three years old. Sometimes, when his sandy hair fell over his eyes and he pushed it back impatiently, he seemed about twelve. At these times Jane loved him most.

She never showed that she thought of him as more than a physician. She wouldn't do anything that would hurt Stephen or his mother and father. And besides, she was unhappily certain that Dr. William Porter never thought of her as anything but a good patient.

She'd be going home in a few days and she'd have to make up her mind about her future. She wasn't sure it would be right for her to marry Stephen when she knew she was in love with Dr. Porter.

She felt miserable and she couldn't manage anything but a very weak smile for the nurse who entered her room. She was unusually glad to see Carol Williams, but right now she needed time to herself. Carol was a friend of the Carrs, and in the month since they'd met, the two girls had grown fond of one another.

"Hello, Jane," he said now. "And Carol! This is more than a young doctor can stand."

They were totally unlike in appearance. Jane was small, with brown curly hair and a nice smile. Her only claim to real beauty lay in her deep blue eyes. Carol was the type of girl artists must have in mind when they draw pictures of nurses. She was tall and slender with sleek black hair. Her figure was so good that not even the uniform could detract from it.

"How's the patient?" Carol asked.

PATIENT IS PERFECT

"The patient is perfect," Jane answered.

"That speaks well for our hospital. Has the doctor been in to see you this afternoon?"

Jane could feel a flush come into her cheeks. She hadn't blushed in years, but now, whenever Dr. Porter was mentioned, she got as red as fire. She knew Carol was watching her and it worried her. If anyone guessed her secret it would be this girl

"No, he hasn't been in yet. Maybe he won't stop today. I'm really perfectly all right.'

"Oh, he'll be by. He'd never overlook you. He went to college with Stephen you know and they've always been friends. Knowing that you're going to marry Stephen makes you special in Dr. Porter's eyes."

Jane wondered why Carol should take the trouble to repeat something everyone knew. Maybe it was just to remind Jane that she mustn't let her attentions wander. Maybe she was in love with Bill Porter, too. Jane thought suddenly that that was the answer. Carol worked with Bill and she'd certainly not be able to keep from loving him. No woman could.

Jane gazed at Carol thoughtfully. If she had ever had any hope of making Bill Porter really notice her, she gave it up now. No one could compete against a girl like Carol. At least not just a plain-looking person like herself. It would be like a wren parading beside a peacock

The door to her room swung open and Jane's eyes leaped to the face of the man who entered. He was attractive, but not, Jane could tell herself when she was lucid, as handsome as Stephen.

"Hello, Jane," he said now, "And Carol! This is more than a hard-working doctor can stand. Two beautiful girls and no competition."

Jane, watching him closely, decided that his eyes lingered on Carol's for an extra moment.

"When may I go home, doctor?" she asked abruptly.

"Why, Jane," he said, "I thought you weren't minding the hospital. I've told all my patients that here was one person who never bothered me with pleas to be sent home. And now you double-cross me. Are you really so anxious to go, Jane?" he asked quietly.

"Yes I am," she answered. "I have so much to do before my wedding." Now why, she asked herself, had she said that. He didn't care a rap about her wedding. And Carol had looked at her sharply as she said it. Probably she thought Jane was trying to tell Bill that until she was married there was a chance for him.

"Well, I guess we can have you out of here in two days,' he said. "You're a tough little thing even if you do look as if a heavy breeze wou'd blow you away."

He smiled down at her and Jane had to look away from his eyes. She loved him so much and he didn't think of her as anything but the fiancee of his friend. Probably, Jane thought, he wondered how a plain little thing like herself had captured Stephen.

"Bill Porter's attractive, isn't he?" remarked Carol after the doctor had left.

"Is heg I hadn't noticed," answered Jane, lying in her teeth.

"I think he is," said Carol. "I'm surprised he's stayed single so long."

CHANGES THE SUBJECT

Jane was sure she saw a gleam in the other girl's eye that said he wouldn't stay single much longer. She steered the conversation away from the subject that had become painful to her and in a little while Stephen came in.

He'd managed to spend every spare moment of his time with her since she'd been in the hospital. He was, Jane decided, the sweetest man in the world, and she was lucky to get him. It wasn't as it she didn't love him. She did, of course, and if that love wasn't exciting, it was safe and warming.

He didn't talk as much as usual tonight, though, and he seemed troubled about something. He must have guessed about her falling in love with Bill, Jane thought, horrified.

"Stephen," she said gaily, "I think I'll be out of here in two days. Won't that be wonderful?"

"I'm awfully glad, Jane," he answered soberly.

"I'll be able to help your mother with plans for the wedding. She's had so much on her shoulders, but I'll be up and around soon and then she can relax. I think we can be married the first of next month."

"That's swell, Jane," he said, but not very happily. Jane guessed he was still worried about her.

She was dressed an hour before Stephen came to take her home from the hospital, two days later. Bill had call'ed and told them the time to come. She couldn't wait to leave. She wanted to get away from everything that reminded her of Bill. Of course he'd come to see her at Carr's but it wouldn't be the same. She looked up as the door opened, but it wasn't Stephen. It was Bill!

"I wanted to see you before you left," he said.

"Oh, but that wasn't necessary," she babbled, "I'm perfectly all right."

"Are you?" he smiled, "Well, I'm not. I'm sunk. There's nothing I can do to cure myself. You see, Jane, I'm in love with you. I didn't want to," he went on. "I've always thought any guy who fell for a friend's girl was a rat. I just couldn't help myself. I know it doesn't mean a thing to you but I had to tell you. I'll turn your case over to another doctor. Goodby, Jane."

He was gone. Jane wanted to call him back but she couldn't. She didn't move until Stephen came in with Carol.

"I thought you'd need someone to help you get settled and since Carol was off duty, she said she'd come." Stephen explained.

"That's fine," Jane manag,ed, and then to her horror she started to cry. It wouldn't have been so bad if Carol hadn't come over and put her arm around Jane's shoulder.

"It's Bill Porter, isn't it, Jane?" she asked.

Jane was so weak and tired and miserable that she couldn't deny it.

"You're in love with him, aren't you?" persisted Caiol.

Jane nodded.

"I've been trying to convince Stephen that you were, but he wouldn't believe it. Stop crying, Jane. You see, Stephen and I are in love." Carol stopped talking and smiled at Jane.

Jane couldn't believe it for a minute and then she felt a surge of happiness

"I think, then," she said happily, "that you two should be alone. And send me a doctor on your way out."

CONGRESS TACKLES DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—National defense supplanted politics in the Capitol temporarily today as Congress returned from recesses to tackle a dozzen and one problems which may prolong the session many weeks.

The order of business for the Senate and House this week had not been determined as Democratic leaders came back to their desks from the Chicago convention but committees faced heavy schedules.

Chairman Woodrum (D) of Virginia, of the House deficiency appropriations subcommittee announced the start of hearings on the request of President Roosevelt for another $4,880,000,000 for defense.

Woodrum said that Secretary Knox and other Navy Department heads would be heard first and would be followed by officials from the War Department.

"Then we will call in the National Defense Commission, lay our defense program before a roundtable conference and see what we've got," Woodrum said.

He predicted that the big bill raising the current defense outlay to about $15,000,000,000 would be ready for House debate in two weeks.

NEW HELP FOR FOLKS OVER 40

Who "Feel Old" From Need of Iron & Vitamin B1

A large number of people some 40 do not get enough iron to make red blood; and they also fail to get enough vital Vitamin B1. As a result, these folks are in poor health. They have too little energy or appetite. They sleep restlessly and often develop certain types of nervousness and neuritis. Their shortage of Vitamin B1 indirectly may affect the glands, stomach, intestines and other organs.

A shortage of iron and Vitamin B1 often causes the following—
Tiredness
Fatigue
Dizziness
Backaches
Nervousness
Constipation
Lack of Pep
Short Temper
Loss of Appetite
ENRICH contains Iron & Vitamin B1. Try ENRICH

Men and women over 40 can now obtain extra iron and extra Vitamin B1 by taking dietary ENRICH, a new dietand which is helping thousands who formerly felt tired, tired from insufficient iron and Vitamin B1. To find out how much iron and Vitamin B1 is in ENRICH read this:—

You would have to eat 3½ pounds of beefsteak or 7 lbs. of spinach every day to get the same amount of iron daily as in ONE OUNCE OF ENRICH. And besides you would have to eat ¾ pound bakers yeast every day to get the same Vitamin B1 now obtained daily from ENRICH.

ENRICH tastes good and often produces an amazing improvement in a short time. Costs but a few cents a day; contains no alcohol or stimulant drugs. Does not harm teeth. Gives satisfaction or money refunded.

the refuse matter could or would be swept back shoreward . . . Boston's alert young chief executive is NOT going to stand for that, the column hears . . . Sewage disposal has been streamlined in blueprint, if not in actual practice . . . But such confidence in the blueprints of a system invented by John Schaf, Tech, '07 (a system whose basis is revolving filters and incineration), is held by state officials and engineers that many students of the problem are finally hopeful . . . Mr. Schaf was in town over the week-end, which may be significant of a trend toward action.

ENGINEERING TESTS OF A plant he installed at Niagara are said to show a purification of Niagara river waters of 99.99 plus . . . A few miles downstream from the Schaf plant, water from the river is syphoned and treated so that it is drinkable, reports say . . . Yachtsmen who hold their noses and "break out" their scrubbing brushes to attempt to cleanse the waterlines of their craft after sailing through the foul-smelling miniature Sargasso Sea which Moon Island creates when the gates are opened, will be heartened to know that progress can be reported . . . The Schaf filters already are being manufactured in a Hyde Park plant, this column is told from an authoritative source, and if an application to the city for erection of a test treatment plant at the same unpopular Moon Island (at no cost to the city) is successful, the summer of 1942 may see the situation on the way to complete clarification.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Margolita's song "Du Barry," one of her most successful songs at the Cocoanut Grove's Hawaiian Room, was written months before Buddy De Sylva and Irving Berlin collaborated so successfully on the musical smash, "Du Barry Was a Lady" . . . Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer are real life pals right here in Boston, although Mark Twain has nothing to do with the case . . . The young (5-year-old) son of the Spencer L. Sawyers — Mr. Sawyer is manager of the Hotel Sheraton—was presented a two-months-old Great Dane puppy by Mrs. James Mott Hallowell, who rates the social register . . . The pup immediately became the youngster's devoted pal, and the senior Sawyers have named the pet Huckleberry Finn.

RAY NOBLE NOW LOOMS as a positive booking for the Ritz Roof late next month . . . Cy Shribman has assigned the able young manager, Jack O'Leary, to Glenn Miller's band, and if there has been any doubts that the Boston dancehand impressario has a "piece" of the year's most successful "hot" band, this should dispel them . . . Jack Larkin's Red Coach Grill, in attempting to explain a 30 per cent increase in receipts over those of a season ago, has one theory that the recent widely-publicized holdup of the place attracted the public's attention to the spot . . . We must check Frank Fishburn's sentiment on that score . . . The stickup of Frank's Magnolia Inn was even more spectacular.

'Have a Baby Win a Home'

NEW YORK, July 22 (INS)—"Have a baby, win a home" today became the slogan in a "baby sweepstakes" sponsored by Clinton Moseley Washburn, of St. Petersburg, owner of Florida's "Honeymoon Isle."

At a reunion of 200 honeymooners who spent the first days of their wedded life on the Island, Washburn disclosed that he is offering a deed for life to the cottage they occupied while on the isle to the first 20 couples visited by the stork.

In addition, a deed to the land and beachfront where the house stands go with the offer.

LOAN RATES REDUCED

New Household Finance rates cut payments on all amounts over $100

See new monthly payments in table below—No endorsers or guarantors needed to borrow—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, private service.

ONCE more Household Finance customers receive the benefit of a reduction in loan rates. Household's rate of 2¼% per month has long been below the lawful maximum. Now this rate is cut from 2¼% to 2% per month on that part of a loan in excess of $100.

More people are now making use of Household Finance service than ever before. This increased volume of business has reduced our operating costs. Our policy has always been to share such economies with our customers. So we are now cutting our rates on all loans of more than $100.

$6.41 a month repays $100 loan

We urge you to study the payments in the table before you get a loan anywhere. You need no endorsers or guarantors to borrow at Household Finance—just the ability to make small monthly payments. Suppose that you need $100 and can repay $9.75 a month. Your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments as little as $6.41 a month will also repay a $100 loan. Your payments include all charges. These charges are substantially below the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law.

Pick your own payment plan

Find the loan you need in the first column of the table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment you wish to make. Note that you may make very small payments if you prefer. Or you may pay larger installments and pay up sooner. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs.

One rate to everyone

Household charges only one rate—the same to everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

All you do to borrow

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives—and you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get the money you need in a simple, private transaction.

Fair Treatment

Household shows every consideration to the borrower faced with sickness or unemployment while paying a loan. Last year Household foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud. Why don't you phone or visit us today? You will be under no obligation to borrow.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2¼% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

DIXIANA STABLE'S Sirocco received the break to which he was entitled when he won the $50,000 Arlington Classic by seven lengths. Sirocco was at Suffolk Downs for most of the meeting, and scored only one victory. In his other local starts he experienced bad racing luck.

ALFRED G. VANDERBILT

Sirocco does not like mud. The track was off at Suffolk Downs most of the time the Dixiana color bearer was here, and this did not help him any.

"I thought Sirocco was a cinch to win the Arlington Classic," said Dave Wilson who named the $28.20 victor in his code special in the Green Race Edition of the Boston Evening American. "Sirocco won't even walk in the mud which is why he did not show at his best at Suffolk Downs.

"The Chicago race proved that Bimelech is not the wonder horse so many people have rated him as being. Bimelech is a good horse, and he will win his share of races, but he does not outclass all opposition as many experts believed before Col. E. R. Bradley's thoroughbred was defeated by Gallahadion in the Kentucky Derby. Gallahadion, as well as Sirocco, defeated Bimelech in the Arlington Classic.

"Right now I do not believe there is a three-year-old in the country that can defeat Sirocco."

It was a big week for Wilson in naming handicap winners as he also picked Eight Thirty to win the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap.

In his code book, "Dave Wilson's Winners," the handicapping king shows a 100 per cent profit over a period of six months. It was Wilson's contention at the time he first started giving code horses in the Green Race Special of the Boston Evening American that one can beat the races if he picks his spots and wagers on solid horses.

Blue Pair Headed for Blue Grass Country

BLUE PAIR will soon be on his way back to the blue grass country of Kentucky to rest up before starting training for the Breeders Futurity that will be held at Keenland Park, Kentucky, in the fall. Blue Pair won six races in a row at Suffolk Downs, including the $10,000 added Mayflower Stakes last Saturday. He proved himself one of the finest two-year-olds in the country, and his owner, C. C. Van Meter, believes he has earned a vacation. One must agree that Van Meter is right.

It was a bit of daring riding by Jockey Maurice Berger that enabled Blue Pair to win. Rounding the turn Blue Pair was quite a distance behind Big Stakes, the leader, while other horses were also in front of him. It was then that Berger gambled, took his horse in on the rail and got through to be in a position to fight it out with Big Stakes during the race through the stretch.

When Berger went in on the rail, he took the chance of being cut off and won. With the net value of the purse $12,600, Berger received $1260 as his share of the spoils. The jockey is today at the World's

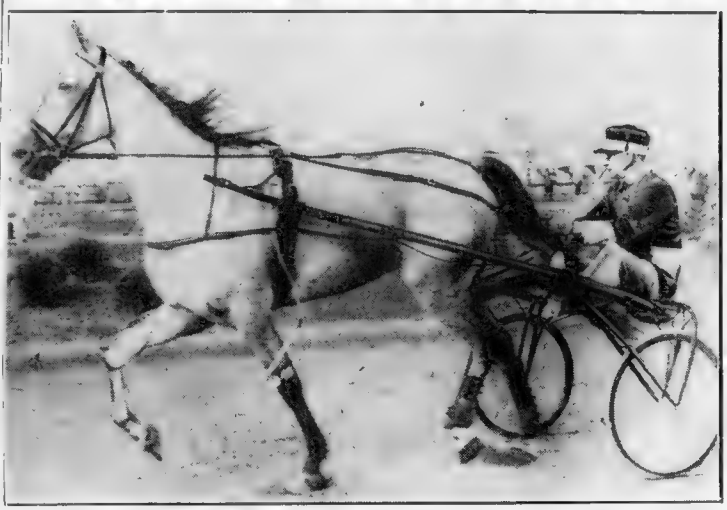
Greyhound Trots In Gansett Stake



NONPAREIL—Greyhound, Sep Palin in sulky, which was to face among others Peter Astra, 1939 Hambletonian winner, in Trotting Club stakes today, feature race on Grand Circuit harness meeting at Narragansett Park.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 22—Greyhound, world champion trotter, was to face a fast field today in the Trotting Club Stakes, feature event on the opening day Grand Circuit harness card at Narragansett Park.

Originally scheduled to get under way last Saturday, the meeting was put over to today because of rain.

Peter Astra, 1939 Hambletonian Stakes winner, Bravo, Bagpiper, Sister Mary, Clever Hanover and Ed Lasater are in the field which will face Sep Palin's great grey gelding.

Greyhound was to run as an entry with his stablemate, Sister Mary, and was to be barred in the betting.

Both also were to be eliminated from the final placing appearing on the tote board.

$8000 STAKE

A double feature card of five races instead of four, and 11 heats instead of the usual eight, was scheduled this afternoon.

Two rich stakes were included in the program, which was made up of four trotting events and a pacing race.

The American Stake, $8000, for 3-year-old trotters, will bring out a field of 12, all of which are eligible for 1940 Hambletonian.

Spencer Scott, trotting in the colors of C. W. Phellis and driven by the veteran Fred Egan, probably will be the public choice in this event.

Winner of his only two starts this year, the colt has been working out at Gansett for over a week and is reported fast and ready.

Opposing him will be the greatly improved Remus, Earl's Moody Guy, Kuno, Jim Vo'o, Sister Hanover, Gentleman Jim, Queen Victoria, Steward, Princess Pert, Speed King and Edgar Hanover.

TWO FOR N. E. HORSES

This stake, which is carded as the second race on the program, will be run in three heats.

The Little Rhody, two one-mile dashes for 15-class pacers for a purse of $800, is the first event on the program. This race is restricted to horses owned in New England and has drawn a fast field of seven.

The Pawtucket, two one-mile dashes for a purse of $800, is for 15-class trotters and is also restricted to New England owned horses.

A purse race for trotters slower than 2:12, to be raced in two heats, completed the program.

SOX PITCHING OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Osty, Bagby, Johnson, Mustaikis Raise Hopes

"Every cloud has a silver lining," the old song says, and if there was a silver lining in the cloud which shrouded the Sox pennant hopes today as they wended their weary way to Chicago, it was the pitching they received from Fritz Ostermueller, Jim Bagby, Earl Johnson and Alex Mustaikis during the past week.

The Sox closed their 13-game home stand before a 34,600 Sunday cash crowd by dropping both ends of the twin bill to Cleveland, 2-3 and 0-2, but they were in both games until the last man was out.

Jim Bagby started the opener against Bob Feller and dueled him successfully until the ninth inning.

OSTY GREAT

Joe Cronin had put the Sox into the lead, 2-1, in the sixth inning by homering with DiMaggio aboard, but the Indians tied it up in the eighth after two were out.

Bagby walked both Heath and Keltner, and the former came home on Mack's lob single to right.

It was evident that Bagby was tiring but he was permitted to open the ninth. Then after Feller had been retired, Chapman singled off the left field wall. Campbell pushed him around to third with a single past second.

Joe Heving was rushed in, but he wasn't warmed up sufficiently, and Trosky singled home the winning run.

In the nightcap, shortened to eight innings by the Sunday curfew, Fritz Ostermueller held the Indians to four singles, but they bunched two of them with a walk and a sacrifice fly in the seventh to defeat the game little Dutchman.

It was the second time in a week that Osty had hurled a masterpiece, and it was a pity his mates weren't hitting the ball. As it was, with Cramer on base in the eighth and final inning, Cronin missed a home run by inches which would have given Osty a tie.

Ailing so much last spring that he was left behind in Folrida to work out with the Louisville club, Osty has proved he can pitch winning ball, for last Wednesday he gave the Tigers only two hits in 5 2-3 innings when he relieved Jack Wilson.

KIDS SHOULD HELP

On the same day, Bagby pitched the second game of the double header, and escaped with an 8-5 victory, putting the club within one-half game of the then leading Cleveland Indians.

And rookies Alex Mustaikis on Friday (one hit in 4 innings) and Earl Johnson on Saturday looked as if they would be able to help the cause considerably from here on.

It was Mustaikis' second mound appearance since he joined the Sox from Scranton, and it was the second time he gave evidence he could do a decent job of twirling. He probably will be given a starting assignment in the west, and he deserves it.

Johnson looks like the brightest prospect to come along in years. Reminding the old-timers of Ray Collins, the good looking youngster from California showed a truly remarkable curve ball Saturday against the Indians, and once he shakes off his nervousness he should be a consistent winner.

The kid won 12 and lost only four at Rocky Mount before Heinie Manush sent him up, and he's only 20 years of age. But he can pitch baseball. He may be a lifesaver if the Sox use him wisely.

FIVE GAMES OFF TOP

One-half game off the top last Wednesday, five games off now, prospects for a Red Sox pennant do not seem any brighter than they did that dismal July 4 day when they dropped a double-header to the Yanks.

But yesterday they were there fighting all the way, while on Independence Day they were lackadaisical.

How baseball crazy New England is was shown by the fact that the Sox had the largest crowd of the season yesterday despite the raining morning and despite the heartaches they have left the fans with so often this season.

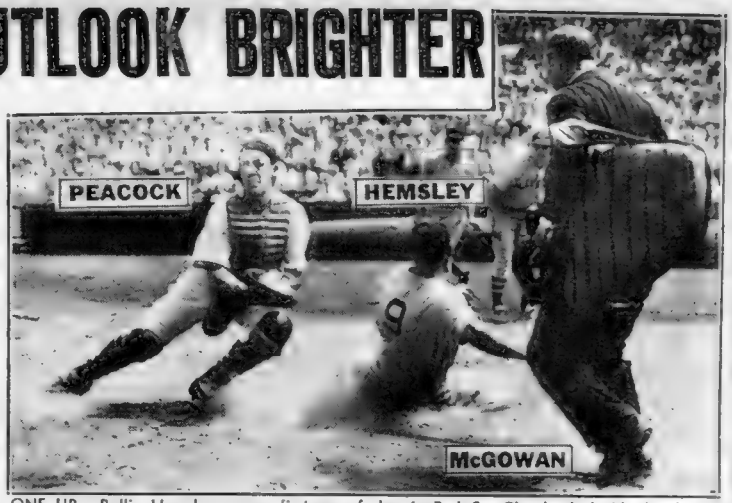
In the West, they will be strengthened by the return of Jim Tabor and Lou Finney, and the extra thump provided by these Alabamans may be the difference between victory and defeat more than once.

W'ell, here's hoping.

Joe DiMaggio Out Five Days

NEW YORK, July. 22 (INS)—Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, who was mising from the Sunday lineup in the important doubleheader with Detroit, will probably be out four or five days with a bad hip, according to Dr. Robert E. Walsh, club physician.

DiMaggio pulled a couple of muscles near his right hip while swinging at one of Detroit rookie Harold Newhouser's pitches his last time at bat Saturday.



ONE UP. Rollie Hemsley scores first run of day in Red Sox-Cleveland double header at Fenway Park. Indians' catcher came home on Roy Weatherly's single in fifth inning of first game. Indians won opener, 3-2, then took nightcap, 2-0.

B'S ASK RETURN OF WEST, MOORE AS THEY AWAIT WESTERN CLUBS

The crippled Bees came back home today after a sad western trip, determined to get even against the same Westerners in the home stand which opens at National League Field tomorrow against the Chicago Cubs. The Pirates, Cards and Reds follow in order.

Weakened by the loss of Max West, the Bees dropped the three-game series in Pittsburgh, and today were 25½ games behind the league leading Reds.

Even the most optimistic of Bees adherents can't see the club going anywhere this year, but Casey Stengel refuses to quit on his boys.

"Let us get some good morning batting practice and give us back Max West, Gene Moore and Jim Tobin, and we'll hand any of them all the trouble they want," predicted Casey today as the Bees special rolled in.

The team was shot physically in the West. Max West, was hurt in the all-star game in St. Louis, July 9 and was of such little help in the next few days that he was sent home to recuperate.

The Sunday double header in Pittsburgh was a nightmare, the Bees losing both ends 5-3 and 16-2.

Manuel Salvo, who looked like the best pitcher in the league the past month, was shelled from the hill in the fifth inning of the opener. Joe Sullivan finished up well but the damage had been done before he got in there.

What little satisfaction they got out of the opener was in chasing Danny MacFayden off the hill in the first inning. The old Bees light hander couldn't get one of the first four men to face him out and was rescued by Dick Lanahan.

The Bees scored twice in that first inning, but Salvo was combed for three runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth. Debs Garms and Ellie Fletcher, other old Bees were particularly annoying to the Boston cause.

The second game was a complete rout.

Bill Posedel started and was combed for 10 hits in four innings. The Waner brothers, back from a long term of bench duty, were most destructive. Lloyd got four hits during the eight-inning game and Paul three.

Strincevich, Javery, Prochota and Williams all saw service on the Bees mound before the bombardment was ended at the end of the eighth by the Sunday curfew.

SHORTSTOP DUEL AHEAD

The outstanding girl shortstop in Canada will play against the outstanding girl shortstop in the eastern United States Thursday evening at the Boston Garden.

The Canadian queen is Lolita Quinn of the Montreal Royals; the Eastern United States selection is Mildred Mooney of Dorchester and the Olympets.

Miss Mooney is hitting for the astonishing average of .600, and is considered the slickest fielder and baserunner in the New England League.

Against the Hartford girls last week, she scored two runs, including the winning score in the 12th inning.

But Gus Ogilvie, Royals' manager, claims Miss Quinn will surpass Miss Mooney in every department. This is Miss Quinn's second year with the Royals last year, her first, she was selected on the Montreal all-star club and this season has enhanced her fame.

BABE PICKS YANKEES

PORTLAND, Me., July 22 (AP)—Babe Ruth has a "sleeper" in the American League—the New York Yankees.

The erstwhile Sultan of Swat said that the Yanks, the team he once paced to several world's championships with his mighty bat, will turn the trick in the end.

The Yankees now are in fourth place behind Detroit, Cleveland and Boston.

"They haven't got the pep," Ruth told an interviewer. "There's no lift there now—but they'll find it and will win out."

Bronzed and weighing 235, the Big Bam stopped here en route to a golf tournament at North Conway, N. H.

RAYNHAM NEW 'MIRACLE' DOG RACE TRACK

Ready for Opening

Six weeks ago Russell Murray and Mark Linenthal conferred as to the selection of a site for the new greyhound race track in Raynham, Mass.

Two sites were offered. After a preliminary survey, Linenthal, engineer, declared in favor of the Herrick farm. It was an idle pasturage site, filled with the usual boulders and included, also, an itinerant and wandering brook that had to be reckoned with. For said brook had a habit of roaming around after heavy rains.

Engineer Linenthal said the place would be suitable. Manager Murray gave a curt wave of the hand and things started. For when Linenthal, who was responsible for the rapid erection of Narragansett Park, Suffolk Downs, co-constructor of Wonderland and numerous other places, steps into action, things begin to happen.

WORK STARTS

Figuratively he spat on his hands, barked orders and, almost before you could count two, a couple of huge steam shovels went to work. Barked is used in a rhetorical sense, for there is nothing of the "top sergeant" attitude about Engineer Linenthal. Instead, he has a persuasive drawl that seems to have even more effect than the staccato commands of those of other types.

The shovels started uprooting a lot of underbrush, boulders and gouging a new channel for the brook. In less than a week the whole plot had been prepared, levelled, and holes dug for the concrete foundations for the grandstand.

"It couldn't be don," was what a lot of folks thought, but they took a second thought when they saw the steel rolling in for the grandstand pillars.

There wasn't a power line within three miles. That was a serious problem, for it meant a lot of planning. However, no time elapsed before the electrical crew was hauling the necessary cable the necessary distance.

Then there was a drainage problem. It had to be a brand new job right from the start and one of no mean proportions, for it is expected that Raynham Park racing will draw up to 15,000 persons and drainage is a problem when it comes to handling crowds. Linenthal's job was touch-and-go right from the start at Raynham and his headaches were plentiful.

One thing, and the main thing, however, that pleased Linenthal was that Murray gave him plenty of room in which to work. The result is a perfect oval racing strip that will be the apple of the eye to the greyhound owners, for it gives the canines plenty of racing room and makes an ideal strip for a fair test of speed.

Raynham Park will be unique in that it is one of the few greyhound tracks in the country to sport a clubhouse. That feature seemed to belong to the horse race tracks until recently, but the amazing increase in the popularity of greyhound racing throughout the country has caused large numbers of people to lift their eyes and say "how long has this been going on?"

As a result, this new track, which opens tomorrow night, the product of the fertile brain and imagination of Russell Murray, pioneer greyhound racing promoter in Massachusetts, will be the outstanding track in the country.

IDEAL SPOT

It is situated ideally, located on a main highway, Route No. 138, and is but 20 miles, or less than a half hour's drive, out of Boston and six miles north of Taunton. It is near the junction of several main routes and less than eight miles from Brockton.

There is parking space for more than 3500 automobiles. The grandstand is of the streamlined type with gentle rises and a minimum number of posts, giving an unobstructed view of the racing at all times.

The greyhounds will be kenneled in a newly-designed jenney pit, wide open to the public view, with the weighing-in scales and platform right out in the open where the patrons can watch that detail at close hand, should they so desire.

The American Totalisator Board will be the last word in electrical efficiency. It is of huge construction, set directly opposite the grandstand across the infield.

The totalisator is an intricately designed machine that automatically records the number of tickets and amounts wagered on each race and the public knows at every instant just what amounts have been wagered on each entrant. Since the action is entirely automatic, there is no possibility of manipulating the board to conceal or pad figures in any manner.

Harry M. Stevens, Inc., will cater to the hunger and thirst of the patrons. All baseball fans know this firm, for it has exclusive rights in every ball park in the country and almost completely dominates the catering field in large amusement parks and race tracks.

A special train will leave the South Station nightly for Boston patrons, departing at 7:05 p. m. and making stops at Back Bay and Hyde Park. It will return immediately after the last race.

In addition, the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway and the New England Transportation Co. will have buses which will leave strategic points such as Ashmont, Quincy sq., New Bedford, Fall River, Attleboro, Providence and Pawtucket to go direct to the track, and round trip tickets including admission to the track will be sold.

The turnstile method of entrance, lately so popular with the fans, will be used. It eliminates congestion at the entrances and the track management takes care of the tax problem.

The construction of the plant, its ideal location and accessibility from all points of southeastern Massachusetts, over numbered highways that are free of congestion, will have great appeal to the followers of the greyhounds and this latest track is certain to add still further to the popularity of the sport.

Kayak II Ride For Rodriquez

HOLLYWOOD PARK, Cal., July 22 (INS)—Eugene Rodriguez, sensational Cuban jockey, today was given the biggest opportunity of his career when he was assigned to ride Charles S. Howard's Kayak II in the $50,000 Gold Cup race at Hollywood Park Saturday.

The Latin riding star and the black equine thunderbolt from South America will form the West's answer to the challenge of William L. Brann's mighty Challedon, Eastern turf champion, which is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at noon today after a cross-country trip to Boston.

TIGERS TOPPLE YANKS AS FANS RIOT IN STADIUM

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers may not be a perfect ball club, but they're red-hot one, and that's what it looks like the American League is going to pay off on.

It's still a long haul to the finish line, but the Tigers have just succeeded in winning five consecutive contests from the world champion New York Yankees and the rich Red Sox of Boston, both of them contenders in this whacky merry-go-round.

YANKEES CLAWED

The Yankees themselves were as warm as the weather until the Tigers came to town and turned on some real heat. Detroit scored four runs in the ninth inning to win the first game of a double-header yesterday 4-3 and then battled back again to take the night-cap 3-2.

It was a stirring show in which 68,590 fans participated, staging one of the worst exhibitions of rowdyism the grim, grey walls of Yankee Stadium ever have witnessed.

They threw pop bottles, fruit and an assortment of other missiles at Umpire Joe Rue in the second game after he ruled a liner by Tom Henrich landed foul and they didn't stop the demonstration until a detachment of city police stationed themselves at strategic spots throughout the stands.

HOMER SETTLES GAME

When the Tigers came to bat again Pete Fox hit a home run that decided the game in their favor. A pinch homer by Bruce Campbell with one on climaxed the rally that won the first game. Joe DiMaggio remained out of both games, complaining of a sore back.

The Cleveland Indians, who were crushed in their series at New York, completed a sweep of a three-game stand in Boston by whipping the Red Sox 3-3 and 2-0 in a twin bill.

In the National League the Reds mopped up the Giants 6-1 and 4-2 to make their score 20 victories in the last 25 games, certainly a championship pace.

Paul Derringer pitched a two-hitter in the first fracas, having a perfect game (no hits and no man reaching first) until the eighth inning when Babe Young homered. Jim Turner kept eight hits well spread in winning the second session.

DODGERS GIVE GROUND

The Dodgers gave ground again by dividing a doubleheader with the Cardinals. The Dodgers captured the opener 3-1 with Fred Fitzsimmons pitching seven-hit ball and Joe Medwick and Joe Gallagher nicking Clyde Shoun for home runs.

But in the second affair Enos Slaughter punched out two round-trip tickets off Luke Hamlin, one with two on, to lead the way to a 2 triumph.

The Pittsburgh Pirates again demoralized the Bees, sweeping a bargain bill 5-3 and 16-2 on top of Saturday's 17-6 bombardment. The rout was so complete that Mgr. Frank Frisch took a leaf out of the football coaching book and substituted a "second team" in the midst of the second game to rest his veterans from the heat.

The Cubs and the Phillies split two games, the tail-enders copping the first 8-2 on Hugh Mulcahy's six-hit hurling and Chicago coming back to win the second, 8-5, with a 15-hit offensive topped by Hank Leiber's two home runs.

Bennie Warren of the Phils also hit two and John Rizzo one, but young Jake Mooty didn't give up much else and pitched shutout ball for the last five frames.

CHISOX SWEEP SERIES

The White Sox finished off a sweep of their series with the Athletics with 10-8 and 7-2 verdicts in a couple of free-swinging affairs. Mike Tresh made three hits in the first game and Bob Kennedy four in the nightcap to lead the blasting.

The Browns and Senators divided two games, George McQuinn and Joe Grace hit home runs as the last place Browns pounded out an 8-4 decision in the first game and McQuinn hit a three-run homer as St. Louis outslugged the Senators in the nightcap, but lost 5-4. Washington got only six hits to St. Louis' 11, but one of them also was a three-run homer, by Sam West.

Dutch Leonard, knuckleball ace of the Senators, burst a blood vessel in his hand in the first game and had to be relieved.

Heroes and Goats

By International News Service

The Heroes—Joe Gallagher, of the Dodgers, who hit a ninth inning homer to beat the Cardinals in the first game of a double header; Enos Slaughter, who accounted for all the Cardinals' runs as they won the nightcap; Paul Derringer and Jim Turner who pitched the Reds to a double victory over the Giants to add to Reds' advantage in pennant race.

The Goats—Marvin Breuer, who shut out the Tigers for eight innings only to be knocked out of the box in the ninth when the Yankees lost opener of double header;

Myopia Four Win N. E. Polo Crown

HAMILTON, July 22—The New England polo crown today was bestowed upon the Myopia quartet.

The hard-riding foursome gained the title by edging the Pittsfield horsemen 7 to 6 in seven chukkers.

Star Dust

Paul Derringer and Jim Turner, Reds—Former pitched two-hit ball in first game and latter scattered eight in nightcap for twin triumph over Giants.

Joe Gallagher, Dodgers, and Enos Slaughter, Cardinals—Former hit two-run homer in ninth to win first game and latter blasted two home runs for four tallies in second session.

Bob Feller and Joe Dobson, Indians—Each produced fine pitching shows in taking two games from Red Sox.

Bruce Campbell and Pete Fox, Tigers—Pinch home run by former climaxed triumph four-run rally in first game and latter's home run was deciding factor in second game.

Hugh Mulcahy, Phillies, and Hank Leiber, Cubs—Mulcahy won opener with six-hit pitching and Leiber led Chicago to victory in nightcap with two home runs.

Joe Gracie, Browns, and Sam West, Senators — Grace hit two homers in first game and West hit one with two on in second contest.

Elbie Fletcher and Frank Gustine, Pirates—Former knocked in two runs with double in first game and latter made three hits and batted in three runs in second game.

NEEDLED GOLF BALL DOOMED

DETROIT, July 22 (AP)—Manufacturers may succeed in constructing the needled dream golf ball that will travel 400 yards—but the players will never get a chance to use it in a United States Golf Association tournament.

Harold W. Pierce, of Boston, president of the U. S. G. A., told contestants in the 19th annual national public links championship last night that the association is conducting experiments designed to set a maximum carry for balls used in the national open and other tournaments.

Clubs also are being studied, Pierce said, with the idea of limiting the pitting of faces to reduce the amount of backspin.

"We are afraid that a chemist will produce a substance more resilient than rubber and a ball with a phenomenal carry will be the result," Pierce said. "It is my belief that golf should be entirely a contest of skill with no player holding the advantage over another in the matter of equipment."

Balls used by a number of contestants in the recent national open at Cleveland were picked by a U. S. G. A. representative and are now being tested by a machine owned by the association at Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Pierce said manufacturers of golf equipment had indicated a willingness to cooperate in limiting the resiliency of balls.

"What distance we will set as the maximum for balls used in our tournaments has not yet been decided," Pierce said.

Joe Burk Wins 4th Straight Sculls Title

RED BANK, N. J., July 22 (AP)—Joe Burk, the Penn Athletic Club's world sculling champion, won his fourth successive national single scull title as Philadelphia clubs virtually monopolized honors in the 68th annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Burk, becoming the second rower in the history of the association to win the singles crown four straight years, scored a 15-length victory over Theophiel A. Dubois of the Winnipeg (Canada) rowing club to equal the achievement of William G. Miller, another Penn A. C. star, who held the title from 1930 through 1933. Burk's triumph in the highlight of the two-day regatta brought him the famed Philadelphia gold challenge cup and "Olympic tryout" honors as well as the national championship.

Arlington Champions' Turf Jinx

By TOM SHEHAN

Upon reading of Dixiana Farm's Sirocco's victory in the Arlington Classic at Arlington Park, Chicago, we couldn't help think of a conversation with George Woolf, who rode that colt to his victory after Challedon had finished third in the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap.

"Cheer up, George," he was told. "You'll win the Classic with Sirocco."

"Do you think so," asked George eagerly. "What kind of a colt is he?"

When he found that the opinions of two of the Boston turf writers confirmed his own as to the chances of that colt in the Classic, he talked eagerly of the colt which confounded the Mid-West by beating Bimelech Saturday.

Perhaps the Arlington Classic can be termed just as much a Graveyard of Champions as the Massachusetts Handicap. It was in that race last year that we saw Challedon hand Johnstown just as decisive a whipping as the son of Challenger 2nd received himself last Wednesday. It was the first and only time that we have ever seen the Arlington Classic, and the result was most disappointing to us because it was also our first and only glimpse of Johnstown, and we saw him finish behind Challedon.

Charles Clinton Van Meter, the venerable gentleman who owns Blue Pair, winner of the Myles Standish and the Mayflower Stakes, as well as four other races at Suffolk Downs, knows of no reason why he should sell the son of Pairbypair.

It seems that Van Meter, while not a wealthy man as horse owners go, has enough money to insure comfort the rest of his days, and he would like to see his colt become one of the best in the land.

Before he won the Mayflower, Van Meter said he was going to ship his colt back to Lexington and let him rest up until the Breeder's Futurity at Keeneland in the fall.

Tom Waller, trainer for the Brandon Stable, has the good three-year-old Pass Out entered in one of the Rockingham Park stakes . . . Sidney Brown, of Racing Secretary Charles J. McLennan's staff, leaves for Washington Park on Thursday night

SAMUEL STEWART FRANK PARKER FRANK KOVACS RICHARD TODD

HE'S THE TOPS—Frank Parker, Pasadena tennis ace, 2nd ranking player of the U. S., receives the Lumsden trophy, emblematic of the eastern clay court singles championship, from Samuel B. Stewart, Jr., of the tournament committee as Frank Kovacs, 2nd from left, and Richard Todd, referee look on. It was Parker's third win in four meetings with Kovacs. The scores, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1. The match was played in torrid weather at the Jackson Heights Tennis Club.

Net Stars Move Into Sea Bright

SEA BRIGHT, N. J., July 21 (AP)—Most of the nation's top-flight players swing into action tomorrow in America's oldest grass court tennis tourney, the Sea Bright invitation, but two of his personal stumbling blocks won't be around to harry Bobby Riggs, national men's champion.

Riggs is top seeded in the 53d annual renewal of the classic. Absent from the field of 40 is Don McNeill, Kenyon College player who trounced Riggs for the national clay court title last month, and Frank Guernsey, Jr., Rice champion who knocked Riggs out in the third round here last year.

Ranked below Riggs in the draw is Frank Parker, second in national ranking, defender of the Sea Bright Bowl by virtue of his victory over McNeill in the '39 final. Also seeded are Welby van Horn, Elwood T. Cooke and Bryan M. Grant, Jr., the perennial "giant killers" from Atlanta.

Ladislav Hecht and G. Lyttleton-Rogers, Czechoslovakian and Irish Davis Cup players, respectively, are seeded in the small foreign division.

The ladies singles play has the four top-ranking players of the nation seeded in that order—Alice Marble, Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan and Helen I. Bernhardt, last year's Sea Bright champion. The foreign seeded contingent includes Miss Mary Hardwick, Miss Nina Brown and Miss Rita Jarvis of England, and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France.

Court's Laughing Boy Subdued by Poker Face

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Frank Kovacs, laughing boy of tennis, was finally subdued yesterday by solid Frank Parker, who doesn't even laugh at his own jokes.

Parker, the nation's second-ranking player, abruptly halted Kovacs' triumphant tour of the East by drubbing him 6—2, 7—5, 6—1 in the final round of the Eastern Clay Court tournament.

An aura of invincibility had sprung up about Kovacs on the strength of his accomplishments in the Nassau invitation tournament and the Eastern Slope championships.

Conversely, despite Parker's high rank in the country's listings, most of the experts, swayed by Frank's weak forehand and general lack of lustre on the court, were ready to admit that he probably won his ranking as a compromise choice.

But Parker dispelled all doubts both as to his forehand and his right to the spot behind Bobby Riggs in the nation's seedings by the facile manner in which he hurdled Kovacs.

RACELAND HANDICAP FEATURE AT 'ROCK'

SALEM, N. H., July 22—Lou Smith, executive manager of Rockingham Park, has high hopes that the Raceland Handicap, which will be run for the first time on Saturday, Aug. 17 at Rockingham, will in time surpass even the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap, staged annually in July at Suffolk Downs. Not in money perhaps, but certainly in sentiment.

The $4000 added Handicap is one of the many features on the eighth annual Rockingham meeting which will get under way here next Monday.

The incubators of racing in New England were The Country Club in Brookline and Raceland, the beautiful estate of John R. Macomber in Framingham.

There, each year, hunt meets were held long before racing was made legal in New England, and when Lou Smith first came to New Hampshire he had the complete support and confidence of the Massachusetts sportsman.

Now, as the eighth season of New England racing opens, Smith treasures the fact that he still has the confidence of Mr. Macomber.

The famous Massachusetts citizen will serve as honorary steward at the approaching meeting, and the Raceland, named after his estate, will be run each year in honor of the first man of racing in New England.

Many of the outstanding sportsmen in America have rallied around to make the first running of the Raceland Handicap a success.

William Woodward's Belair Stud has nominated Fighting Fox and Bosley for the six furlongs sprint. A. C. Bostwick has named Cacodemon. The veteran Guy Bedwell has entered the name of Sun Egret.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree Stable will be represented by One By One; Henry A. Parr III of old Pimlico by Ebonito and Legal Light; and the famous Wheatley Stable by Ship Biscuit.

Jingle Jangle In Race Debut At Revere

Wonderland patrons will be afforded their first glimpse of the great Florida champion, Jingle Jangle, in action when the John E. Howell kennel star makes her first start of the summer season in the sixth race at the Revere oval tonight.

The race will serve primarily as a conditioner for her scheduled appearance a little later against Rural Rube, Brave Gesture, Suwanee, Fern Nature and the other outstanding track stars now campaigning at Wonderland.

SPEED AND ENDURANCE

In two elimination series, at West Flagler and St. Petersburg, Jingle Jangle was crowned track champion when she forced the great Rural Rube, Suwanee and Cherokee Stroller to eat her dust as she piled victory upon victory at every distance.

To Howell, Jingle Jangle represents his "dream" track performer.

Loquacious in his praise of his track star, Howell says the greyhound possesses the speed out of the starting box which makes for a good sprinter and yet has the endurance which is so necessary over the longer courses.

'BRAINY' RACER

In addition to her speed and stamina Jingle Jangle is known among track experts as a "brainy" racer.

By this is meant her uncanny ability to pick openings in the pack for her stretch run and her knack of avoiding interference on the turns. This ability to keep out of trouble keeps her in contention throughout a race.

According to her owner, Jingle Jangle is now in the best condition of her career and before the summer passes she will be sent out to break the Wonderland records for the Futurity and the 5-16 mile courses.

Random Shots at Target

THE 1940 racing curtain in Massachusetts drops at Suffolk Downs on Saturday . . . Then horsemen and racegoers will turn to Rockingham Park which opens a 24-day meeting a week from today . . . Lou Smith has secured plenty of top horses for his meeting, and with a break in weather he looks for his most successful summer meeting . . . Dynamite Dunn tells me he already has his racing stable at the Salem, N. H., track.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt came up from New York to see his two-year-old, Good Turn, race in the Mayflower Stakes . . . Vanderbilt conferred with President Charles F. Adams of Suffolk Downs informally on the racing picture throughout the country . . . Vanderbilt and Adams agreed that tracks should do everything possible to offer larger purses . . . Vanderbilt and Adams expressed the thought that the horsemen put on the show and that they are entitled to share liberally in racing's new popularity.

The new dog track at Raynham is ready to open its 75-nights of racing tomorrow evening . . . Russ Murray has virtually lived at the Raynham track for the past six weeks, and he says everything is in readiness for the grand opening . . . The Raynham track was constructed by Mark Linenthal who was also the architect for Narragansett Park and Suffolk Downs . . . Mark is able to pull a completed race track out of a set of blue prints as if by magic.

Race Commissioner Bill Cain of New Jersey visited with Tom Thorp at Suffolk Downs on Saturday . . . Cain was anxious to get a close-up of the East Boston track in action . . . Thorp may head one of the new tracks that will be constructed in New Jersey.

50,000 See Jarvinen Nip Javelin Mark

HELSINKI, July 22 (AP)—Matti Jarvinen, Finland's great javelin thrower, surpassed his own Olympic record of 238 ft 7 inches with a heave of 241.6 feet in Finland's home Olympics, witnessed by more than 50,000 honoring the war dead.

Jarvinen set his Olympic mark in the 1932 games at Los Angeles.

Swifty SAYS:

"It's a good thing I keep in condition—from now on they are going to send me over the Revere Course Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights. Come on down and watch me show 'em something in these thrilling long distance events."

DEVINE HEAVY CHOICE

Pat Devine of Cambridge will headline the heavyweight quartet of entries in the Golden Glove finals at Dilboy Field, Somerville, Wednesday night.

Pat was good enough last spring to win the New England heavyweight championship, and seems good enough to wade his way to the outdoor Golden Gloves crown from a field which includes Billy Connolly Bill Dupee, Cambridge; John Pretzie, Boston, and Dave Horblitt, Boston.

The last named may provide the upset, if any. Entering the game in the hope that a punch might help him regain his hearing, Horblitt has surprised one and sundry. Last week he put up a sterling battle against the more experienced Devine.

Malden's Harold Harris, New England champion, and Roxbury's Francis Doyle, State champion, head the list of entries in the 126-pound class with Bob Perron, Lowell, and Al Sforza, North End, completing an imposing quartet.

Billy Daley, Roxbury, Jimmy Kelley, Lowell, Jimmy Esposito, Brookline, and Steve Bomal, Lowell, make up the 135's while Mike Corcozza, Haverhill, Gene Boulden, Providence, Ray Buckless, Saugus, and Dave Andrews, Lowell, will compete in the 147s.

State champion Billy Connolly, Roxbury, will have John Lycurgus, Boston, Hilton Johnson, Providence, and Jimmy Rosato, Winchester, to beat out for the middleweight title.

Winners in these Golden Glove Championships will meet a group from New York state in next week's show at Dilboy.

GAMES TONIGHT, 6:15

West Roxbury vs. Dick Casey Club at Dorchester Town Field.

Navy Yard vs. Carter's Clothes at Lee Park.

Boston Hellenics vs. St. Catherine's at Barry Park.

Artesani Club vs. Roslindale at Fallon Field.

Hal Crosby Club vs. St. Alphonsus at Fens Stadium.

Carter's Steps Out To Whip Fullerton

Carter's Clothes, boasting the league leading hitter in Eddie Costello, .435, takes on the Navy Yard nine at Lee Park, South Boston, tonight, in the feature of a five-game Park Department League card.

Carter's defeated the Artesani club of Allston in an upset last week and thereby took over complete possession of second place in the East division.

They feel they will go further toward the top tonight for they are confident they can solve the slants of ancient Curtis Fullerton, who was pitching for Mechanic Arts high before the World War and for the Boston Red Sox after it.

The drama of the divisional leaders will be enacted at Dorchester where Bill Benson takes his West Roxbury club to tangle with Dick Casey.

Casey bowed before Jimmy Maguire's fast flinging in the last meeting at Billings and tonight Pete Cerrone's famed change of pace will be the chief factor with which West Roxbury will have to contend, in addition to the bats of Corrigan, Conway and Franie Catarius.

Local Roxbury rivalry will flare at Fens Stadium in the meeting of the Crosby and St. Alphonsus clubs, deadlocked in points for the past fortnight. This clash points toward a Glynn-McDermott delivery duel.

THIS CAN LEAD TO BALDNESS

Over exposure to hot Summer sun and salt water can cause serious scalp disorders which may in turn lead to baldness. Yet all Summer sports can be enjoyed and with proper precautions the hair can be kept healthy. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through treatment by John E. Warner, New England's leading hair and scalp specialist. All of these men who have had treatments now know how to take care of their hair because a study is made of each case individually and proper care is taught with the treatment. Today a high premium is put on appearance and if you are losing your hair, you should in your own best interests consult John E. Warner. There is no charge or obligation for a private consultation at his offices, 7th floor, 515 Washington Street, Boston, opposite R. H. White's. There is a separate department for women. If he accepts your case for treatment you can be sure of saving and improving your hair. Fees are very moderate. Office hours daily 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. Saturdays 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. H. C. Grid Ace Golf Champ

EASTERN POINT, Ct., July 22 (AP)—If Eddie Foy is as good a football player as he is a golfer, Holy Cross ought to have a pip of a football team next fall.

For Eddie carved out a 4 and 3 victory over Ralph Bogart, the District of Columbia champion, in the 36-hole final of the Shenecossett men's invitation tourney, with as fine a bit of golf as has been shown around here this season.

Foy went three up in the morning round, firing a two-under par 70 at Bogart to take a lead that stood him in good stead. And that showing was made after Bogart had made a fine match of it for the first nine holes. Foy went three up after losing the first hole, but Bogart came right back at him, firing birdies at the seventh, eighth and ninth to pull up level.

However, he shot his bolt in that stretch, and bogied the tenth, where Foy went out in front to stay.
